See Early Start On Work Relief Projects Here

Dr. Bennett Believes 350 To 400 In City On Jobs Before December 15

AWAITING ORDERS FROM STATE HEAD

Local Projects Already Submitted; Little Delay On Start Expected

It was the belief today of Dr. G. S. Bennett, head of Lawrence county's relief board, that New Castle's proposed five work relief projects, announced yesterday, will be completely under way by December 15, but Harrisburg had not sent definite word today of its plans for administering the state's civil works administration program.

The county board chairman said he based his belief on a statement attributed to Federal Relief Administrator Harry I. Hopkins, in Washington, asserting that the nationwide undertaking should be in progress by that date.

Dr. Bennett also took the state's call for a list of work relief projects and for an estimate on available jobs men as a favorable indication that word as to procedure would soon come.

See Quick Action

It was stated that Eric H. Biddle, state administrator for the C. W. A., has been in Washington this week in conference with national officers and his return to the state is expected to bring quick action, inasmuch as the new federal work program is concerned.

President Roosevelt's aim is to place 4,000,000 men to work on work relief projects throughout the nation within the next month.

Dr. Bennett told state authorities yesterday that work for between 350 and 400 men awaited the "go" signal here.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Some good work has been done by the street department in ashing street intersections where there are stop signs on the most travelled streets in the city.

Great interest will be centered on the new federal plans to provide jobs for those on relief rolls here, as announced yesterday. It will be a fine method of extending relief, if carried out successfully.

With good weather conditions Taggart stadium on Saturday should see the largest crowd of years. New Castle high school is playing its first big intersectional game, and the departure is fraught with much importance to the local team for the future.

Sledriding on the streets has already resulted in several bad accidents to coasters. Coasters should not use streets of the city that are much travelled, despite the urge to enjoy the brief spell of coasting.

Skaters were noted on the ice of the Neshannock creek near the East Washington street bridge yesterday, probably the earliest in fifty years that any skating has been enjoyed in this locality. The temporary dams built in the Neshannock made the water just right to freeze over quickly. With a few more days of sub-freezing temperature there will probably be a revival of ice skating in the city.

Parents of boys who have been sled riding and hitching onto the rear end of automobiles at Albert and Sheridan avenue should take their boys to task. Someone will be hurt.

There were a lot of streets in New Castle last night where automobile chains were not needed, but East Lutton street was not one of them. This street was just about as icy as one street can get—much to the enjoyment of the sled-riders and consternation of the motorists.

Thursday was no good hunting day according to hunters who waded through snow in various parts of Lawrence county. The bunnies refused to come out in the open to be shot and in fact, very few rabbits were seen yesterday.

Expect 300,000 Will Get Work In State Under Relief Plans

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—President Roosevelt's civil works program got under way today in Pennsylvania where about $35,000,000 will be spent giving work to approximately 300,000 persons.

Eric H. Biddle, civil works administrator for the state, asked state department heads to submit to him by the early part of next week lists of projects upon which work can begin immediately.

The program will spread out during the rest of the month to the entire state, with appointment of municipal civil works administrators to ascertain what local projects can be included in the emergency program. Biddle hopes to have all projects started by the middle of December.

Half of those to be given work, Biddle told cabinet members will be drawn from the relief lists and half from the self-sustaining unemployed of the state.

In outlining the program to the cabinet, Biddle pointed out that there is to be no "cheating" to get grants from the civil works fund. Major projects for which public works funds have been or are to be asked will not be permitted under the civil works scheme, he explained.

Ickes Plans For Scope Of Public Works Programs

Secretary Has Billion Dollars Left For Public Works Projects

EMPLOYMENT IS SHOWING INCREASE

Requests For Loans Total Near Five Billions; New Program In Operation

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Scope of the public works effort required to restore normal employment will be determined by Secretary of the Interior Ickes, within 30 days, it was indicated today.

He has slightly more than a billion on hand which will be exhausted before Christmas. Against this comparatively small fund he has before him now, applications for public works projects from various states called for approximately five billions.

There has been no indication that projects to this amount will be approved, but the sponsors of these various plans will back any new request for funds, congress is expected to add to the list also.

Offsetting this demand is the opposition of the budget director Lewis Douglas, who has attempted on several occasions to curtail the program.

L. WIRT BOONE MRS. MARY BOONE MRS. PEARL HALL

Authorities at Dallas, Tex., are investigating a love triangle which came to a tragic end with the slaying of Mrs. Hall, right, 30-year-old widow, by Mrs. Mary Boone, center, while the latter's husband, L. Wirt Boone, left, looked on. The shooting occurred at the Boone apartment where Mrs. Hall had been lured by Mrs. Boone on the pretense that a friend of Boone wanted to see her. Mrs. Boone, charging that Mrs. Hall had stolen the affections of her husband, told authorities that she shot her rival because she advanced on her and she feared for her life.

Governor Will Take Exam As Pilot Of Plane

Mrs. Pinchot Also To Take Examination To Become Pilot

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Gov. and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, Pennsylvania's first "flying" family, left the Capitol today by automobile for Philadelphia where they were to take examinations this afternoon for licenses to pilot airplanes.

Attaches of the governor's office said examinations would be taken by the governor and his wife at 4 p. m. at an armory at the south end of Island road in West Philadelphia.

Their decision to apply for pilots' licenses came after both had obtained considerable experience at piloting aircraft during recent months. Although both denied they were attending flying schools, they admitted they frequently relieved pilots on many flights over Pennsylvania and adjacent states.

It has been frequently rumored, but never officially confirmed nor denied, that the 68-year-old governor proposes to resort to airplane travel, piloting his own ship, if he decides to enter the U. S. senatorial campaign next spring.

See Bitter Struggle Over State Stores Liquor Proposition

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Adoption of the McClure liquor control bill as now written would force Pennsylvania to buy its bottled spirits from hotels, restaurants and other licensed retailers from December 5 until the dawn of 1934.

In this manner Gov. Pinchot today proposed to restrain the flood of hard liquor that would come with repeal until sufficient time is given for establishment of dispensaries throughout the commonwealth.

The state store section which is headed for a bitter struggle—less growing opposition is side-tracked, in the house Monday night does not become effective until the new year. Other provisions of the measure go into effect with the chief executive's signature.

During the 26-day interim in which falls the Christmas holidays, licensed retailers—hotels, restaurants, clubs, railroad dining cars and

President Declares Credit Of United States Is As Good As Ever

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., assumed the helm of the treasury today, while speculation over the government's monetary policy continued to hold the attention of financial centers both at home and abroad.

For the fourth consecutive day, the gold price remained unchanged at $33.56 per ounce, which was taken as an indication in some quarters that a temporary halt at last has been called in the administration's steady devaluation of the dollar.

Credit Is O. K.

Morgenthau's assumption of the treasury helm was made the occasion of President Roosevelt's asserting that the credit of the American government today "is as good as it ever has been."

This declaration was made during the private but rather impressive ceremonies of inducting the new treasury head into office. Morgenthau took the oath in the oval room of the White House, where Mr. Roosevelt presided.

Morgan's White House Visit Is Engrossing Mystery At Capital

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

(Copyright, 1933, By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The capital's most engrossing mystery today concerned the visit of J. P. Morgan to the White House.

He came, he saw the president—at his own request—and he departed as mysteriously as he came, with no more information concerning the administration's gold-dollar policy than has been vouchsafed to the newspaper reporters who cover the White House. Probably not as much for the reporters ply Mr. Roosevelt regularly with questions, eager questions. Mr. Morgan did not. He did not have the opportunity. So far as the White House was concerned, it was purely a social visit. No business was discussed. Mrs. Roosevelt was present throughout the brief visit and, of course, business is not discussed before the ladies.

Of Historic Interest Visits to the White House from the head of the House of Morgan are rare enough to become events of historic interest.

J. P. the elder, came once in 1893, in a time of deep depression. He came at the invitation of Grover Cleveland at a time when the government's credit was in jeopardy. He drove a hard bargain that netted him millions and went away. On another occasion he came again, at the invitation of Theodore Roosevelt, to discuss settlement of a controversy involving labor troubles in the coal fields.

This was J. P. the younger's first visit to the mansion. He came at his own request, and if his mission was other than some light, informal discussion over a cup of Mrs. Roosevelt's excellent tea he went away without its having been disclosed. As has been noted, Mrs. Roosevelt was present and business is not usually discussed before the ladies.

Hunt For Body Of Brooke Hart Kidnap Victim

Pair Confess Kidnaping And Murdering California Youth

SAY THEY THREW BODY INTO BAY

Many Searchers Aiding In Effort To Recover Body—Mob Storms Jail

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—A piece of a man's shirt was recovered from the waters of San Francisco bay near the San Mateo bridge early today by police dragging the bottom with grappling hooks for the body of Brooke Hart, murdered kidnap victim.

The piece of water-soaked cloth corresponded to that of the shirt worn by the young victim on the day of his disappearance from San Jose last Thursday, Nov. 9.

Scores of deputy sheriffs and police trooped the bay with grappling hooks, searching for the body of the 22-year-old youth who was knocked unconscious, bound with baling wire, and then thrown from the bridge into the water by his abductors.

Demand Death Penalty.
SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 17.—District Attorney Fred Thomas of Santa Clara county declared today he would invoke California's new kidnap statute, demanding the death penalty for the abductors and slayers of Brooke L. Hart, 22-year-old son of a wealthy department store owner.

The confessed kidnapers, Thomas Thummond and Jack Holmes, were secretly rushed under heavy guard to the city jail in San Francisco, 50 miles north of here, when an enraged mob stormed the Santa Clara county jail, shouting "lynch them!"

Signs Confession.
Thummond made a detailed, signed confession to department of justice agents that young Hart was murdered a few hours after he was kidnapped. They confessed they bound Hart with baling wire and threw him from the San Mateo bridge, crossing lower San Francisco bay.

Scores of deputy sheriffs were dragging the bay today with grappling hooks for the body.

District Attorney Thomas said the new drastic kidnap statute, passed

PRISON BREAKERS GET INCREASED TERMS

Six Prisoners At Rockview Are Penalized

Temporary Freedom Adds Many Years To Original Sentences

TWO RECAPTURED ON PACIFIC COAST

(International News Service) BELLEVILLE, Pa., Nov. 17.—Temporary freedom gained by six convicts in escapes from Rockview penitentiary today cost them prolonged terms aggregating from 61 to 125 years. The severest penalties fell on Frank Nadeau and Wayne Daugherty, who dashed to California in a state police car. Nadeau, originally sentenced from Allegheny county for a five to 15-year term, was given an additional 17 to 37 years. Daugherty's original sentence of five to 10 years from Crawford county, was increased by 16 to 32 years. Arnold Rahoff, Washington county, who escaped from the penitentiary and later from Centre county jail, had seven to 14 years added to his original sentence of six to 12 years on a robbery conviction. His companion, Louis Banks, Washington county, who was too stout to follow Rahoff through a hole in the Centre county jail, was penalized nine and one-half to 17 years in addition to his eight and one-half to 17 year term. Ray White, Erie county, pleaded guilty and received the customary escape penalty of three and one-half to seven years in addition to a similar term he is serving for an auto theft. An additional eight to 16 years was tacked on the original seven to 14-year sentence Alfred Fulmer, Blair county, is serving for an automobile theft. Fulmer fled from the prison vegetable garden.

at the last session of the state legislature early this year, would be invoked because he believed a conviction would be obtained even though the body of young Hart is not recovered. Thomas said he has several witnesses who heard young Hart cry for help as the kidnapers threw him from the bridge.

Confessions Similar.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 17.—The confession of Jack Holmes, one of the kidnapers and slayers of young Brooke Hart, differs only in two points from the confession of his accomplice, Thomas Thurmond. Holmes charges that Thurmond was the instigator of the plot and that he was merely Thurmond's tool, while Thurmond insists Holmes was the perpetrator. Holmes denies he felled the youth with a blow from a heavy brick and insists he struck the youth with his bare fist. Thurmond declared Holmes hit the youth with a brick, knocking him unconscious before they threw him into San Francisco bay.

(Editor's Note: Following is the story of the sheriff who captured the two men charged with kidnaping and murdering Brooke L. Hart. The sheriff also played a leading role in the arrest and prosecution of David Lam-son, Stanford university press executive now in prison condemned to be hanged for the murder of his wife, Allene.)

By WILLIAM J. EMIG (Sheriff Santa Clara County.) Written Expressly For International News Service.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 17.—Vigilance was rewarded in this case. We went after every clue that came into our hands and finally we were rewarded, although the tragedy of Brooke's death was one of the most poignant in the history of this county.

By a special telephone hookup we got a flash when the kidnapers' call went from the garage to the Hart home.

I got over to the garage pretty fast and took Thurmond into custody while he was still talking.

For the next six hours we questioned him and like most criminals, he soon grew entangled in his story.

Finally he confessed and named Holmes as his accomplice.

He said Holmes was living at a certain hotel and we went there, taking Holmes into custody.

I am convinced that no one was concerned in this plot except the two men we have under arrest.

I am also convinced that Thurmond is telling the truth about the crime; that he and Holmes kidnaped Brooke Hart, deliberately killed him and then tried to extort money from his father.

I am sorry we could not bring this youth safely back to his stricken parents.

All we can do now is see that justice is administered to those who took his life.

Swift Punishment SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 17.—Swift punishment will be meted out to the confessed kidnapers and slayers of Brooke L. Hart, district attorney Fred Thomas announced today.

Thomas said that the two men who had confessed to the crime, Jack Holmes and Thomas H. Thurmond, will be brought to trial here in the superior court of Santa Clara county under the new California kidnaping law.

This law provides, in case of kidnaping with bodily harm, for the death penalty or life imprisonment without parole.

"The new kidnaping section of the code," Thomas said, "provides more drastic punishment than that for first degree murder."

"In a first degree murder case, the jury has several verdicts at its discretion, under the kidnaping law, where the victim has been harmed, the jury can be only death or life imprisonment without parole."

The district attorney said that he would file complaints next Monday or Tuesday, charging Thurmond and Holmes with kidnaping only.

"We don't bother with a murder charge," he said.

He added that his office will press the prosecution of the "two men as vigorously and speedily as possible."

Plan To Replace Obsolete Planes

Half-Million Dollars Will Be Expended By U. S. Aeronautic Branch

THIRTY PLANES WILL BE BOUGHT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—With a half-million dollars allotted by the public works administration, the aeronautic branch of the department of commerce today expected early action on the replacement of obsolete aircraft and relocation and improvement of existing airways equipment.

The total allotment was $499,125. Of this amount, $225,000 will be used for the purchase of 30 new planes to replace obsolete craft on which operating and maintenance charges have mounted.

An allotment of $152,605 was made to the aeronautics branch for changes in air navigation aid systems. These changes include: Relocating lighting equipment, McClellensburg to Harrisburg, Pa.; establishment of lighted intermediate field at East Liverpool, O.; installation of new field on Harrisburg-Philadelphia section.

ICKES PLANS FOR SCOPE OF PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

Asks For Check

It was Douglas' contention that expenditure of all the more than three billion dollars voted by the last congress was not necessary. He wanted Ickes to check the flow of cash for jobs to keep pace with the recovery resulting from preceding expenditures.

Ickes maintains the project of such cash for local payrolls is an important psychological factor in recovery. Employment resulting from the outlay has not been impressive it is admitted in Washington. It is expected the effect will be felt increasingly as the jobs get underway.

The new civil works program was an attempt to find a short cut. It will not deal with any contract jobs, or with any plans which cannot be converted into immediate work.

The public works program will continue to supply the backbone of the employment plan, with long-time employment on buildings, highways, municipal projects of various self-supporting types, and permanent improvements.

In Operation

The new program will be operating at once, according to insistence by Harry L. Hopkins that the municipalities "step on it." He has the weapon to enforce his order, in his power to withhold appropriations from communities that are slow in getting underway.

He may withhold support where evidence is found that communities are "holding out" on their share of funds which they might contribute. No definite ratio of local contributions to federal funds is set. This phase of the plan will not be permitted to delay employment.

several transacts most of his business these days. Present was a considerable company, including secretary of the Treasury Woodin, who remains titular head of the department, and Dorn Acheson, whom Morgenthau succeeds as under-secretary.

President Roosevelt in a few remarks paid tribute to Secretary Woodin and said he would be gone "a few months."

The country, the president said, owed a deep debt of gratitude to Secretary Woodin. He referred to his taking the treasury post on the fourth of March at a time when the country "faced the greatest crisis in its history." It was due to Woodin's untiring work, he said, that the country pulled through to today, when the government's credit is as good as it ever has been.

He concluded his brief remarks by expressing the hope that Woodin would return in a few months, and that with Morgenthau would make "a great team" in the treasury.

Board Not Hiring Emergency Relief Teachers For Duty

Selection of all teachers for classes organized as a part of the Emergency Education Relief movement throughout Pennsylvania is a duty imposed upon local Emergency Education Relief councils, and not local school boards, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools here emphasized today.

The school chief made that explanation to correct any mistaken impression that the school board elects the teachers.

New Castle's quota of the federal relief teachers' aid movement has been exhausted, it is said. No additional teachers will be hired.

steamboats—would be permitted to make sales both for consumption and non-consumption on the premises.

Complications Seen

If, however, unexpected delays prevent the operation of state stores at the beginning of the new year, Pennsylvania will be forced to drink its liquor by the glass. Sales for non-consumption on the premises and importation from other states by retailers are forbidden by the bill after that date. Few doubt the stores could be set up during the four weeks after repeal.

Legal interpretations also disclosed that no person could legally possess liquor in this commonwealth after the new year unless it is purchased from a state store. The maximum penalty fixed is $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

On this point, the bill states: "It shall be unlawful for any person except a manufacturer or the (alcohol permit) board to keep any liquor within this commonwealth which has not been purchased from a Pennsylvania liquor store."

Explaining this, one high state official cautioned: "If you go down to Atlantic City—or anywhere outside the state—and buy liquor be sure to drink it all before you come home."

It was pointed out that this restriction should work no hardship on connoisseurs of rare brands because the bill also stipulates that state stores must purchase and sell any type of liquor desired.

Liquor manufactured after repeal and imported would be taxed $1 per proof gallon if distilled, 39 cents per proof gallon if rectified and one cent per unit of proof per gallon for wine under the administration's program.

Imported liquor before January 1 will be assessed the same taxes except that rectified beverages will be charged $1.30 per proof gallon. The importation taxes will become inoperative after the state stores begin functioning because no liquor sold to state stores is to be taxed and no other imports are permissible.

MORGAN'S WHITE HOUSE VISIT IS AN ENGROSSING MYSTERY

purpose of Mr. Morgan's visit. It was arranged by Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board of Mr. Morgan's U. S. Steel corporation, who merely said that the financier wished to see the president the White House replied that Mr. Roosevelt would be glad to have Mr. Morgan come—to tea. Thus it was arranged.

The presence of America's greatest financier was not even suspected in the capital. When he came, how long he stayed, and other details of his visit were not readily ascertained. The White House professed to have no knowledge concerning them, and as for Mr. Morgan himself he was not available for questioning. When he left the mansion yesterday evening after some thirty minutes he curtly instructed his chauffeur: "To the station." He answered no other questions.

Has Own Ideas

The capital, however has its own ideas and speculation as to the reasons for Mr. Morgan's visit.

Financial circles and the great banking interests radiating from Broad and Wall streets have been insistently trying for weeks to ascertain the direction and the goal of the administration's monetary policy.

They want to know how far Washington proposes to let the dollar drift in its downward course. They want to know how the government proposes to proceed with the enormous re-financing program that soon will have to be undertaken through bonds. They want to know more about this gold purchase experiment, and whether the administration proposes to issue greenbacks. In short, they want to know what it is all about.

Girl Falls Into Manhole; Injured; Appears Before Council

Miss Agnes Schepp, Scott street, fell into a manhole in Scott street in October, 1932.

She was injured so badly it cost her approximately $125, for services of a physician and a nurse.

Her medicine also cost money likewise clothes which were destroyed.

She asked city council today to pay the bill.

It developed that when she stepped on the manhole lid, it tilted and she plunged into the opening.

Solicitor White said the city had no knowledge the manhole was loose and that while it was regrettable Miss Schepp had been injured, the city was not liable.

Council Genkinger took the attitude that there was a moral obligation, if nothing else, on the part of the city to provide a settlement and council adopted his motion directing that Solicitor White and Miss Schepp's attorney, T. W. Dickey try to come to some amicable agreement.

ELKS CLUB PARTY ATTRACTS MANY

The Elks Club rooms was the center of attraction Thursday evening when a large number of members and friends assembled to participate in their second party of the winter series planned by a special committee.

Activities were in progress at 8 o'clock and tables of bridge and 500 held their attention. Lovely prizes were awarded the following for holding honor scores: Mrs. E. F. Ryan, Mrs. E. Kennedy, Virginia Forrest, Mrs. C. L. Hughes, James Finnegan, Sam Smith, George Vargo and Charles E. Mehard. Bingo games were also another feature of the program.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, an appetizing menu of refreshments was served. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Horner presided as hosts on this occasion. The next party on December 14, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Thomas will have charge.

HADASSAH PLANS MEMBERSHIP TEA

Membership is the first concern of every Hadassah unit in order that it may continue in its important role of health and healing in the Holy Land and now that the need is greater than ever and since the week of November 20 to 24 has been set aside as membership week, the night of Wednesday, Nov. 22, has been set aside by the local unit for the annual mother-daughter membership tea, which will be held in the spacious home of Mrs. Sam Levine, Edison avenue.

Members of Hadassah senior organization and junior unit and their friends will unite in this gala event. Mrs. Myrtle Marcus Fisher of Pittsburgh, who has spent a great deal of time in the Holy Land, is well qualified to speak to the group on conditions in Palestine. The remainder of the program, which will include sketches and songs, will be in charge of the juniors.

The Hadassah hospitality chairman, Mrs. L. Zieve, will be aided by the Mesdames William Blau, Joseph Cohen, M. Davis, J. Cukerbaum, D. Silverman, Sam Wolfe, J. Raffel, S. Edelstein, A. Frank, H. Abkowitz, L. Reinhart, M. Schoenberger, Herman Wolfe, Bessemer; Lawrence Marks, Henry Newman, I. Grossman and S. Levine.

Zambelli-Angelucci

An impressive wedding ceremony took place Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church when Miss Anne Zambelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Zambelli, 510 East Division street, became the bride of Guy Angelucci of South Mill street. The Rev. Fr. P. DeMita officiated, assisted by John Cassalandra in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives of the couple.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned on princess lines with veil of tulle, cap shape. She carried an arm bouquet of call lilies, roses and valley lilies. Miss Nancy Scarazzo, as maid of honor, was attired in a white satin frock made on similar lines, and she wore a blue velvet turban and carried an arm cluster of blue roses. Little Rita Zambelli, sister of the bride, was veil carrier, and Louis Zambelli, her young brother, was ring bearer. Flower girls were Mary Strizzi and Annetta Seco. This entire group all wore white.

A wedding dinner was served to fifty guests at noon in the Zambelli home and at 4:30 a reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelucci have taken up their residence at 507 Pearson street, this city. The former is owner of the Roma restaurant at 946 South Mill street.

Shower For Bride

Mrs. Wilbur McKibben, nee Mildred Houk, was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. John Ulrich, Backfield street, when Mrs. Thomas Backsfield and Mrs. Carl Ulrich entertained with the hostess at a bridge-shower.

Four tables were set for play and prizes were awarded Mrs. Joe McCaskey, Jr., Edna Horton and Iola Sankey. When play was concluded the honored one was presented with many lovely gifts.

Edna Horton, Helen Houk and Iola Sankey assisted the hostesses in serving a dainty luncheon.

G. W. C. Club Members.

Mrs. Frank Borio of Moore avenue was hostess to the G. W. C. club members Wednesday evening in her home. At the close of the cards contests, Mrs. Frank W. Hill, Mrs. Carl Wallace and Lillian Dorsey were presented with prizes for honors.

A tempting lunch was served, Mrs. James Flynn and Mrs. Don Miller assisting with the menu.

On November 28 the club will be received in the home of Mrs. Frank W. Hill, Erie avenue.

Party Plans

Mrs. Oscar Rhodes, Hillcrest avenue, met with her committees on Thursday evening in her home and plans were made for the S. of D. Society Christmas party in the Central Presbyterian church Tuesday, December 5.

Mrs. Rose Klingensmith was named chairman of the committee on tables and decorations and Mrs. Sam Hague, will have charge of the entertainment.

Teachers Are Guests.
Miss Phyllis Merando of 524 East Lutton street, entertained at a dinner in her home Wednesday night. Special guests were Miss Anne Shifman, Miss Sylvia Martin and Peter Grizzle, teachers at the Pollock avenue school.

THIRD U. P. CLASSES HAVE CONTEST DINNER

One of the outstanding events of the season was the tureen dinner held in the dining room of the Third U. P. church Thursday evening by members of the Loyal Band class taught by Mrs. Abe Kildoo and the Queen Esther group led by Bernard Hook, which marked the close of a successful contest.

Dinner was served to guests numbering approximately 85 with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Copeland, pastor, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Colnot, the former superintendent of the Sunday school, as their special guests.

During the evening song singing was featured with Mrs. Agnes O'Neill of the Queen Esther group leading.

Mrs. Irene McKibben, president of the Loyal Band associates, had charge of the program. Mrs. Grace Johnston was awarded the prize for getting acquainted with the most new members.

An interesting and entertaining "Radio Sketch" was cleverly given which aroused a riot of laughter and mirth. Those taking part included Mrs. Hettie Hughes, Elizabeth Henderson, Mary Lewis, Lea Kerr, Ruth Goe, Lizzie Ryan, Marion Davies, Agnes O'Neill, Gertrude Festoso, Mrs. Evan Lewis and Dorothy Hunter.

The committee in charge is being complimented on the success of the evening. They are Mrs. Stella Philpant, Mary Lewis, Althea Warnock, Mayme Ott of the Loyal Band; Helen Houk, Mrs. Edith Love and Mrs. Carl Ulrich of the Queen Esthers.

VETS AUXILIARY PLANS JOINT PARTY

Organize New Club

Misses Mary and Louise Isabella of Maitland street entertained Wednesday evening for the members of a newly organized club which will function during the coming winter season. Each member of the club will give a 500 party at his home.

Parties have already been held in the homes of Louise Filigenzi, of Maitland street, and Elvira Fair of Friendship street.

Cards and games were enjoyed at the party in the Isabelle home Wednesday evening, after which the entertainment of the evening was turned over to Edward Augustine, who presented as toastmaster of the evening. Remarks were made by Angelo Filigenzi, better known as "Rubinoff of the South Side" who was an honored guest. Others who attended were G. Filigenzi, E. Fair, Mike Manto, P. A. Filigenzi and Louise Filigenzi.

The next party will be held in the home of either Mike Manto or Edward Augustine.

Reunited Ladies' League

The regular meeting of the Reunited Ladies League was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Skidmore on North Mer-street. Business items were given attention and following the hours were spent informally with bingo and other diversions. Prizes went to Mrs. Mary Skidmore, Mrs. Elsie Phillips and Mrs. Anna Richards.

Luncheon was served and following they agreed to meet in four weeks at the home of Mrs. Anna Williams on East Washington street.

Colonial Club Notes

Mrs. Vida George and Miss Rose Ciampoli entertained jointly at the residence of the former on East Home street, members of the Colonial Club Thursday evening. Cards whiled away the hours, prizes being won by Diana Metta and Frances DeCarbo.

Luncheon was served at a late hour by the hostesses.

On November 29 the members will be guests of Fannie Manto on East Home street.

LOCAL RESIDENTS ENROUTE TO SOUTH

Mrs. Mary L. King of 316 Rhodes Place is en route to Orlando, Fla. where she will make an extended sojourn.

Mrs. King was in Washington, D. C., yesterday, where she was met by her daughter, Mrs. Margaret K. Fowle, also of Rhodes Place. They continued on to Florida together.

Mrs. Fowle had been in New York City since Sunday, when she bade adieu to her daughter, Miss Margaret K. Fowle, who left on an ocean liner for Bermuda for a visit of a month or longer.

ROUND-THE-WORLD AIR LINE

ONLY a few years ago announcement of plans for inaugurating a round-the-world air service would have claimed immediate world attention.

Today it evokes little interest, being looked upon more or less as a routine development. This is due to the great strides made by air navigation, which has convinced the public of the practicability of such a project.

The undertaking, according to tentative plans, contemplates an air mail and passenger service out of Washington and reaching around the world. It will be operated by American and German interests. Both dirigibles and airplanes will be used. The former are to be employed on that part of the route between Washington and Paris. Between Batavia and Manila seaplanes will be used. Then the service would shift back to dirigibles, the latter operating from Manila to Yokohama, Honolulu and Los Angeles. Fast land planes will compose the Los Angeles-Washington link. The proposed route covers 20,953 miles.

The practicability of both plane and dirigible service has been demonstrated to a degree that would seem to promise success for the undertaking, from the mechanical standpoint. Nor is there good reason to doubt its success in a commercial sense.

JOB-SEEKERS BUSY

Mayors elected a week ago Tuesday in three of the nation's metropolitan centers soon began to find out that they'd fallen heir to jobs carrying plenty of trouble.

Mayor-elect F. L. LaGuardia, of New York City is out of the city on a 10-day vacation trip. Mayor-elect William M. McNair, of Pittsburgh, went to Washington but came back in a hurry, and Harry L. Davis, Cleveland's chief-elect, tried to camouflage the post-election pests by a false announcement that he was away.

But the hangers-on who are looking for plums, political appointments or jobs, whatever you wish to call them, weren't fooled.

Over in New York, LaGuardia will find his offices filled to the doors, McNair is being over-run with Democrats, good and bad, who think it's time the Republican job-holders were eased out, and Davis—despite three previous terms' experience—is hard-pressed to deal with all the problems he's been called to face since election.

That's the way it goes in this sort of business. First, the candidates have their innings, then the workers and the supporters. And the innings of the latter often continue about as long as does the term of the successful candidate.

But all these men, swept into their offices on waves of sentiment against the "ins," will be confronted with problems calling for immediate solution that are far graver than any presented by job-seekers. Their positions are big enough to catapult each of them into the national spotlight; and the whole nation let alone their own municipalities will be keeping an eye on their conduct in office.

GREAT BRITAIN TO BUILD LARGER CRUISERS

That the British Admiralty should follow the example of the United States and Japan in laying down a program for the construction of larger and more heavily armed cruisers was perhaps inevitable. There is more reason to doubt the sincerity of the assertion that this course has been taken reluctantly.

British naval policy has long favored the lighter type of vessel for obvious reasons. With many scattered naval bases a wide cruising range was not essential. The position of the United States with practically no naval bases off its own coasts, though they might be developed in Guam and elsewhere, calls for ships of another kind. Thus any compromise is difficult in the circumstances.

Though the possibility of war between the United States and Great Britain is too remote to be considered seriously, it is easy to understand why the comparative weakness of the British fleet should create some feeling of alarm. After all, the safety of the Empire depends upon the fleet, and there is no doubt that its efficiency has deteriorated by reason of ships fast growing obsolete. All do not take the extreme view of Mr. Winston Churchill that Great Britain should withdraw from the Geneva Conference, or agree with him that American policy is two-faced, so far as it is increasing her navy while pleading for disarmament. The inconsistency is only superficial. Great Britain has an equal right to increase her means of defence.

Unquestionably the British demand for a more powerful navy has justification in the present European situation, from which the United States is to a much greater extent detached. Hitlerism has made Germany a menace that none of her neighbors can disregard. Since it is acknowledged at Washington that Great Britain has perfect right to increase her Navy with no breach of the London treaty, it is difficult to see how the new program could be regarded as alarming by us, or cause any breach in friendly feeling.

CODE FOR MOTHERS

What if a code should be fixed for mother?

Suppose she were allowed to work but forty hours a week. She rises with the mocking birds in the morning, wakes the family gets father off to work, washes six or eight necks and twice as many ears and starts the youngsters off to school.

After the breakfast dishes are polished, she gathers up the family linen—or cotton—for the wash. She indulges in both suds and song and soon the line of garments is bulging in the breeze. Before she knows it, a hurricane of children bursts into the house for lunch at noon.

Then she straightens up the house, looks after several thousand odds and ends until it is time to go to market for meat and vegetables for dinner. She is chief chef, dishwasher and nurse girl for the evening. Along about midnight Billy wakes up with the croup or something and mother gets the cold compress, the camphor and vaseline. Father saws wood all night without thought of a code!

Next day is ironing day—and the next is mending day—then comes cleaning day—and Saturday she has to get ready for Sunday. And so on and on and on and on and on.

Mother puts in sixteen to eighteen hours a day and uses up her code in a trifle over two days—with five more to go.

What to do! Father roars around about the NRA and wants his competitor yanked up for not putting on more workers and giving shorter hours.

But how in heck could we put more mothers on the job?—Los Angeles Times.

LOOK INTO A HEART

Sometimes you look into another man's heart and feel ashamed. You find such wisdom there, such courage in that other heart that you are humbled and made aware of how often you fuss and fume over little things. . . . In his brave presence you feel so much less the man you know you ought to be.

It was thus with me, this day, when I read a letter written to a friend of mine by a friend of his. It told the story of a man who has been sick for three years and who believes he cannot live. Until three years ago this man had never been sick a day. And then, suddenly, a disease struck him in its most virulent form. A numbness crept over his spine, and he does not know how many years or months or even days are left to him. . . . Three years ago he was worth $30,000 and was earning money easily enough in his profession. Now that money has gone; he will lose his house this winter, he thinks, because he has not paid his taxes, and he lies on his back and wonders how he can earn enough money to save it.

He was not whining in that letter. He was merely giving the news about himself to his friend. . . . And somehow, he said, he was still able to laugh at himself, at life. He had always laughed, and why shouldn't he continue to laugh. . . . He had a good life and, though it had ceased to be an easy and a comfortable life for him, there was goodness in it still. He was not worried.

I have noticed that very often those who have had a good life feel the most when troubles come upon them; while those who have never had an easy life sometimes bear up boldly in their misfortune.

And when I read this letter, not written to me, I took it to myself personally, as nearly all of us do. I compared him with me, and with many another, and was ashamed. I stood in the presence of that bravely beating heart and wondered how I would act if suddenly, after 58 years of happy living, I should be struck down as totally as he has been. . . . I asked myself that question and could not answer it. But I put the memory of this letter away in a special corner of myself, hoping it would help in one of those bitter years that are likely to come to any man upon this adventuring earth.

"KEEPING COMPANY"—AFTER MARRIAGE

Your wife is still sentimental, old man.

Her hair may be streaked with gray, but that does not mean she is devoid of romance.

You may think she is foolish and unreasonable when she objects to your frequent absences from home.

You may think it is pure meanness when she objects to your long trips.

And you try to excuse yourself with the plea that you do not associate with other women at such times, but only with men companions.

Yet, while this is in your favor, it presents no good reason why you should not spend more time with her, does it?

She is not anxious for you to take her out frequently or spend money on her in entertaining her.

She wants your companionship—does that surprise you?

That is not foolish, just natural.

She married you because she preferred your companionship to that of any other man and the chances are that she still cares more for your society than that of any other man.

Don't leave your wife alone so much.

THE NEEDFUL CHANGE

If I had a paper to write on the times

I wouldn't collect many figures to show

What's happened to dollars and quarters and dimes

Or what has become of the crops that we grow.

I'd pass up inflation as too deep for me.

And leave the cold records to stand on the shelves.

For I'm sure this old world would much happier be

If we'd think more of others and less of ourselves.

Things have turned topsy-turvy but hatred and rage

Won't set them right nor will trickbrats and sticks.

It's not so much figures on some ledger page,

But our hearts and our minds that perhaps we should fix.

It may be too much out of life we demand

And seeking for pleasures we've all gone astray.

Contentment's not made by the law of the land

But must come to us all in the old-fashioned way.

The old-fashioned honor that lives to its word.

The old-fashioned courage that keeps its creed.

A little less hatred when wrong has occurred.

A little more faith may be all that we need.

Statistics I'm sure are oft misunderstood.

But when labor and capital walk hand in hand

With respect for each other I know 'twill be good.

For the peace of the home and the peace of the land.

It must be a relief to turn professional and get your money in a bank instead of feeling under a pillow.

JOE HAS VISITORS Birmingham Office of Joe Bulger, Democrat November 14, 1933.

Fred Renta News Company New Castle, Pa. I was last Sunday morning at 1/2 past 9 o'clock A. M. Central Standard time hunting for a clean shirt on account I had to go over and do a speech at one of the Methodist churches on account of the community chest campaign which is being had in Birmingham this week.

Can you imagine me Fred doing a speech in a Methodist church and them all democrats too?

Anyway getting back to where we left off at 1/2 past 9 the nigger cook called up stairs and said there is some strange gentleman with a foreign voice calling for you will you please come to the telephone. Well I could not and to tell the truth Fred I could not at first hardly understand what was being said over the telephone on account I now am using the southern language myself and the fellow on the other end of the line did not seem natural. Anyhow he said this Joe Bulger so I said who the heck etcetera are you and where are you and he said I am

Well, Welty and I am at the county jail. Alight I said I will be right over and get you out so I borrowed some bail money from my wife and jumped in my tin lizzie and went from there to the county jail.

Well Welty was there alright but he was not inside as might be expected. He was on the curbstone with Mrs. Welty and two car loads of ice making people from Youngstown Ohio on their way down to a convention at New Orleans where the ice people are going to try and work up some more schemes to take hard earned cash away from poor folks like you and me.

Anyway it was like a breath from heaven to see somebody from New Castle and after Mrs. Welty got thru telephoning to Mrs. Ray MacFetridge they all loaded up and came over to my place for a few minutes before going on their way further south. Of course Fred you know me I am quiet and reserved and don't have much to say but Mrs. Bulger certainly had a chinning fest for a little while and she was still talking about the Rugs when I went to sleep Sunday night.

Welty told me that during the past couple of weeks in New Castle you had been having some unkind grammar in your paper as regards some of the democrats which are feeling their oats up there and putting respectable citizens out of post master's jobs etcetera. Fred I wish you wouldn't do this I wish you wouldn't be hard on these democrats up there because I find down here that republicans have the same standing in good society as democrats do in Pennsylvania.

Also you wouldn't believe it but I am a democrat and all of my ancestors and other defendants in the family was generals in the Confederate army.

Welty and his crowd are going to stop by here on their way back when they have more time and when he gets back to New Castle you will have to take another good man off the republican payroll and move him over to the democratic column because Welty will certainly be a democrat when I get through with him.

So long. JOE BULGER. This government is going back over three million dollars a day now. A few years ago when it went back a million dollars a day great concern was felt. We are on our way somewhere.

Order For Return Of American Fleet From West To East Coast Raises Question Of Navy's Place In World Affairs

Relations of the American naval fleet to diplomatic affairs among the nations is debated as orders are issued from Washington for the great number of the ships now in the Pacific to make a cruise to the Atlantic within the coming year.

"It has been no secret," according to the LOS ANGELES TIMES, that the fleet was sent here and kept here because of the troubled state of the Orient. Not that it was a threat to anybody, but merely a common-sense precaution against any contingency, however unlikely, which might arise. If that possibility has now become such an improbability as to make the fleet's continuous presence on this side of the Panama Canal unnecessary, it is a cause for satisfaction, not only to the Pacific coast but to the whole country. If, on the other hand, it is a political move, intended to remove an international obstruction from the path of recognition of Russia, its wisdom is doubtful and the other itself decidedly open to misconstruction. Establishment of commercial and other relations with the Soviet government ought to stand its own merits. If it has any, without apologies to anybody.

Emphasizing the relations between this country and Japan, the DETROIT NEWS avers that "President Roosevelt has made a far-sighted gesture of good will toward Japan, which, though it may displease the militarists of that country, will be appreciated by those of her statesmen who sincerely desire peace and good relations." The CHARLESTON EVENING POST feels that "the coincidence of the American announcement and of the report of a more friendly disposition of Japan toward the United States is interesting." That paper makes the suggestion, however, that "it would seem that there might be a more equitable permanent distribution of the ships, with alternations of units or squadrons in eastern and western waters, rather than a full concentration in either the Atlantic or the Pacific."

"A considerable part of the fleet, at least," in the judgment of the HARTFORD TIMES, "could be transferred to the Atlantic without endangering in any important degree the national safety. It would offer economies in maintenance. It would end a one-sided policy, whatever its past justifications may have seemed. It would facilitate the progress of much desired improved relations with Japan and have a tangible effect in ameliorating the uneasy international tension which has been proving to be a distinct deterrent to the advance of the world effort at arms limitation and to the subsidence of imperialistic propaganda in Europe as well as in Asia."

There is no ground for seeking to read into these reports any of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "reasons of international policy or indications of a change in international policy." The Bulletin points out that an "advantage gained by this country from the construction of the Panama Canal was the fact that it makes possible the easy transfer of the main body of the nation's naval forces from one ocean to another, thus greatly decreasing the number of vessels and the accompanying expenditure that would be required if separate fleets had regularly to be maintained in each ocean." The Bulletin recalls that "the people of the Pacific coast have been keen to have the fleet

Christmas Seal Was Originated By Postal Clerk

Idea First Used In Denmark To Build Hospital For Children

SPREAD TO THIS COUNTRY IN LETTER

Twenty-nine years ago, Einar Holboell, a Danish postal clerk conceived the idea of the Christmas Seal, from whence comes the custom of affixing Christmas seals to our mail at the Yuletide season, spreading cheer and providing funds for the relief of tuberculosis sufferers.

Holboell, who was a great friend of the children, wanted to build a hospital for the little sufferers of tuberculosis. He had the funds, but as he handled the thousands of Christmas letters which passed through the post office, he began figuring that if every letter bore a penny stamp, it would provide a huge sum of money.

As the idea continued to grow in his mind, he appealed to the King and Queen, who readily granted permission to issue this special stamp or Christmas seal, and soon the fund needed to build the hospital was created.

A letter bearing one of the Christmas seals was mailed from Denmark to Jacob Riis, in the United States, and Riis wrote an article for a magazine about it. The idea was then adopted by Miss Emily Bissell to build a children's hospital in Delaware.

It proved so successful that the National Anti-Tuberculosis Society adopted it, and copyrighted the double-barred cross as the insignia for the society, to be used on the seals.

Immediately following Thanksgiving Day, the seals will be placed on sale in Lawrence County to raise funds with which to continue the war on tuberculosis.

Woodworking Class Will Start Monday

Relief Council To Sponsor Class In George Washington School

Starting Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Harry L. McCurdy, former teacher of cabinet making in the New Castle trade school, will open a class in woodworking in the George Washington junior high school, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, announced this morning. This class will be conducted for those who desire to learn woodworking and are not attending school.

Any pupil in the city enrolled in any of the schools in the city is not eligible to attend this class. The woodworking class according to Dr. Green, is being sponsored by the Emergency Education Relief Council. Students who are planning to enroll must be over 16 years of age.

Students in the city schools are not being admitted because of the Emergency Relief administration. The class will meet every day. There is no charge whatsoever connected with the class.

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is the best laxative for everybody. Senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It has the average person's bowels as regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore, ready for use. Member N. R. A.

Could Not Fool Cops Second Time

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 17.—Francis Howard Wilkins, 33, went to the Butler jail because Hardee H. Hepler, county detective, and Constable John D. Clark, refused to be fooled the second time.

Eighteen months ago the officers arrested Wilkins in Wilkinsburg on the charge of wife-desertion, but he slammed a door in the officers' faces and escaped.

The officers eard that their quarry was again in Wilkinsburg recently, and they arrested him a second time. The excuse of Wilkins to get his overcoat before starting for Butler did not fool the men a second time, and the prisoner was brought handcuffed to Butler.

Rum Conspiracy Defendants Tried

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—Deaware county's rum conspiracy defendants now on trial in federal court here, may have been long on organization, but they were woefully short on spelling.

Frank Demarco, a witness, testified that Frank Ciliberti, whom he described as bookkeeper for the bootleggers' group, made the notation, "Pro" after the payments for "protection."

"What did that 'Pro' stand for?" asked the prosecutor.

"Well," the witness responded, "Frank didn't know how to spell 'protection,' so he just wrote 'Pro.'"

POLICE CARS MAKE

408 TRIPS THIS MONTH

Four hundred and eight calls have been answered by city department police calls this month, according to statistics at the police station which may explain where the gasoline, bought by the citizens, goes to. The officers also keep a check on how much gasoline a day is used by each car, the names of the operators and the time of the car's departure and return.

350 Millions In Christmas Funds Available Soon

Pennsylvania Patrons Will Receive Over Forty Millions Of Dollars

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Three hundred and fifty million dollars will be distributed to about eight million members of the Christmas club by approximately 6,000 banking institutions and organizations within the next two weeks, according to an estimate given out yesterday by Herbert F. Rawll, founder and president of Christmas Club, a corporation.

The average amount received by each member amount to $43.75. This figure represents a slight increase compared with a year ago. Considered from another angle, if all the cash in circulation in the country were evenly divided among our total population of 120 million people each person would have about $40 in-the-pocket cash. While every member of the Christmas club, on the average, has accumulated in nickels, dimes and dollars during this year a sum of $43.75.

The amount of money to be distributed to patrons in Pennsylvania will be $40,460,000.

Said To Have Sold His Property Twice

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 17.—Take a tip from W. C. McCarty on how to make money from real estate.

He was brought before Justice of the Peace Weaver at Muncy on a charge of selling the same property to two different parties.

In making a settlement at the hearing, McCarty explained that he sold a dance hall to Thomas Murray for $82 and later sold a small surrounding farm to another party. In making the second sale, however, he neglected to reserve the dance hall in the deed.

Treser Arguments To Be Heard Nov. 27

Treser Submits Motion For Attorneys To Present Arguments

During today's session of council at city hall, Stanley Treser, director of streets, offered a motion which was passed, directing council to set November 27 at 10 a. m. as the time for hearing arguments in the case of Colvin vs. Treser.

Sometime ago testimony was taken in the case. It was alleged by Cal Colvin that Treser had used political coercion and converted city material to his own use.

Treser denied the first charge and showed receipts for material which he said had been returned to the city.

The material consists of some old brick, cement and sand for a fishpond, the testimony showed.

Gen. Trexler Is Crash Victim

Leading Citizen Of Allentown Dies After Accident On Highway

ACCIDENT OCCURS NEAR EASTON, PA.

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 17.—Brigadier General Henry C. Trexler, Allentown's first citizen and one of the wealthiest industrial leaders in the state, died in the Easton hospital early today of injuries suffered when his automobile, driven by a chauffeur, crashed into a parked and loaded oil truck on the William Penn highway near Easton.

General Trexler, who was 79, suffered fractures of all ribs on the right side of his body, a broken right clavicle and the puncture of the right lung.

A prominent industrialist, he was for more than two decades prominent in the activities of the Pennsylvania National Guard from which he was retired in 1918 with the rank of brigadier general.

General Trexler was affiliated with a number of large corporations and banks and was a member of the board of directors of scores of colleges, hospitals, philanthropic institutions and clubs.

He established the Trexler orchards here, whose fame has spread across the seas. His exhibits annually carried off the most coveted prizes at the Allentown fair.

The ROANOKE TIMES interprets the announcement as "an indication of improved relations with the Orient," while the Dayton Daily News sees "a more peaceful appearance and prospect on the Pacific ocean." The BALTIMORE SUN believes that "Washington is calm and counts on others being calm," and the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION notes that after maneuvers dictating economy, "the government avoided the expense of a return voyage. As to the latest order, the ABILENE REPORTER quotes the explanation that "the officers and crew have been away almost two years, while their families remained in the East."

Gang Leader Will Testify

Roger Touhy To Take Stand In Own Defense In Kidnaping

FOUR DEFENDANTS IN CASE IDENTIFIED

(International News Service)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 17.—Roger Touhy waited to take the witness stand today to testify in his own defense in the William Hamm kidnaping trial.

Counsel for Touhy and his three co-defendants hoped, it was learned, to put the youthful Chicago gang leader on the stand before the return of Assistant Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan. Keenan was expected back in St. Paul some time this afternoon from Cleveland.

Keenan, a brilliant, experienced prosecutor, is a master of the art of cross-examination. With Keenan away, the governor's case rests on George F. Sullivan, U. S. district attorney, and his assistant George A. Healey.

With all four defendants positively identified by one or more witnesses, and with the governor's last exhibit, a collection of guns and kidnap paraphernalia found in the Touhy car, fresh in the minds of the small-town jury, the prosecution's case is admittedly much stronger than it was earlier in the week.

PRINCETON

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Women's Missionary Society of the Princeton church met all day Thursday with Mrs. Louise Nelson. Quitting was the work of the day. At noon dinner was served to nine members and three guests, the latter being Mrs. Bessie Dean, Mrs. Mae Dean and Mrs. Houk.

Woman Writer To Sue Mary McCormick For Cool Million

Result Of Slap In Newspaper Office Will Be Aired In Court

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—While Mary McCormick was speeding east by airplane today, pretty Grace Williams, a writer, prepared to file a $1,000,000 damage suit against the Grand Opera divi as a result of the one-slap encounter in a Los Angeles newspaper office.

Miss Williams is the biographer for Prince Serge Mdivani who was divorced Tuesday by Miss McCormick.

The two women met late Wednesday night in the newspaper office where Miss Williams was negotiating to sell the details of the McCormick-Mdivani settlement.

"I can dish it out and I can take it. But when it comes to process servers I'm on my way. I've got a feeling that I'm about to be sued 50-00-00. Jeeves, call me an airplane!"

SCHOOL BOARD BUYS 195 'SHEEPSKINS' FOR JANUARY CLASS

Signs that another Senior high school graduation is not far away appeared when the city's board of education placed an order this week for 195 diplomas for the January class of graduates.

The board appropriated $97 for the purchase.

Akron Balloon Stays On Ground

Weather Prevents Projected Flight Into Stratosphere Today

ALL IN READINESS FOR FLIGHT SOON

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., Nov. 17.—The bad weather jinx, which held Lt. Comm. T. G. W. Settle's stratosphere balloon to the ground at the Chicago World Fair, continued to shadow him today and forced postponement of the latest attempt to ascend into the upper regions of the atmosphere.

Because of a wind of 22 miles an hour, which freshened just after dawn, the flight was definitely abandoned for today. Weather maps will be studied shortly after midnight to determine whether the hope will take place tomorrow.

All is in readiness for the flight. The 600,000 cubic feet gas bag is inflated and anchored inside the huge airdock hangar here. Major Chester Fordney, Marine Corps scientist, is scheduled to accompany the navy flier on the adventure.

Lindberghs May Fly Atlantic On Trip Back Home

Colonel Lindbergh Asks For Weather Reports On Conditions Over South Atlantic

LINDBERGH AND WIFE AT LISBON

(International News Service)
LISBON, Nov. 17.—Still shrouding his plans in secrecy, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today asked that he be furnished daily weather reports, beginning immediately, for the transatlantic air route from Lisbon to New York via the Azores.

Many regarded this as indicating Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh intended flying home. While others believed the request for meteorological charts was connected with his studies of the Atlantic air routes for Pan American Airways. He has been conferring here with officials of British passenger lines.

Col. Lindbergh remained silent on his plans, declining to reveal when or how he would leave Lisbon.

William Jenkins Will Go To Wales For Winter Visit

Delaware Avenue Man Will Spend Christmas With Brother And Sisters

(By WILLIAM A. JOHNS)
Brython
William C. Jenkins, of Delaware avenue, is making arrangements in order that he may have his Christmas dinner back home in Swansea, South Wales. Mr. Jenkins has one brother and four sisters over there who will be delighted to have their brother William, from the United States to join them at the Christmas table.

The service at the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening turned out very successful. The young people of the Christian Missionary and Alliance church were there in strong numbers and gave a very acceptable program of singing and speaking. The congregation hopes that they may give a return visit in the near future.

Mrs. John Evans, formerly of New Castle, and of Warren, Ohio is now located at 11603 Hopkins avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

Members of the Star of Wales No. 60 True Iovites of America decided at their last meeting to send a resolution to Assemblyman W. J. Zor, of New Castle and State Senator Batchelor, of Beaver asking them to give their support in word and vote to the bill of Old Age Pension.

David Phillips, of East Reynolds street, is spending some time at Greenville, Pa., where he is visiting some of his old friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Phillips lived at Greenville at one time.

New Strike At Postoffice Job In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—Another strike tied up construction on the new federal building here today as all crafts affiliated with the Pittsburgh Building Trades Council laid down their tools in a sympathy move with iron workers and elevator constructors.

The strikers have been protesting the installation of mail-handling conveyors by millwrights.

DIDN'T LOOK PART SO WAS ACQUITTED

(International News Service)
MEDIA, Pa., Nov. 17.—A good look at Joe Gallagher, 61, apparently quickly convinced a jury in court here that he could not have been guilty of attacking Frank Ruckel. Joe was four feet 11 inches tall while Ruckel, the prosecutor, topped the six-foot mark.

Gallagher was acquitted.

Bridge Party Is Enjoyed By O. R. C.

Follows Regular Meeting Yesterday Afternoon; Plans For Anniversary Made

Bridge and 500 were enjoyed by members of the O. R. C. Auxiliary and friends Thursday afternoon at the close of the regular business meeting in the city building.

The women gathered at one o'clock and during the business meeting plans were announced for the Anniversary Dinner which is to be on the evening of December 7 in the Mahoningtown hall of the Horchler building, corner of East Cherry and North Cedar streets. The committee for this dinner is Mrs. Nathan Guy, Mrs. Frank First and Mrs. William Saul. It will mark the 27th anniversary of the organization of the lodge.

Mrs. Walter Waid, Mrs. Ed. Gilbert and Mrs. Perry Reher were in charge of yesterday's social period. Prizes for cards were awarded to Mrs. F. E. Flowers, in bridge and Mrs. H. A. Hall, in 500.

Many Sled-Riders On Madison Avenue

West Madison avenue, for the past several nights, has been the sled-riding center of Mahoningtown. Although the grade is not very steep it slopes enough to furnish a long ride for the sledgers.

The Cherry street hill has had a share of sled-riding enthusiasts also, but never seems quite as popular as the other.

WILL PROLONG DISPLAY

Announcement made Thursday was to the effect that the display of children's books at the Mahoningtown library will be in place next week also in order that all mothers may have an opportunity to see it.

Boys And Girls Of Pre-School Age To Have Story Period

Mrs. Gladys Johnston, branch librarian, and Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, of the New Castle free public library, have decided to have a story period for children of the pre-school age at 3:30 o'clock on Friday, November 24, at the Mahoningtown library. This will precede the story hour scheduled for older boys and girls that day.

Mothers are encouraged to bring their youngsters to the library at that time and are invited to stay with them for the story period. It will last just fifteen or twenty minutes and the children will be able to leave before the older children arrive from school.

ROADS FOUND DRIFTED

Rural Carrier Jesse Boak, of the Mahoningtown postoffice, has been finding some difficulty in traveling the rural route during the past two mornings. Yesterday his car became stuck several times but was able to move on after short delays. At a number of places he found drifts that made it necessary to retrace and detour on the route. These places were being put in shape by the road supervisors, however, and promised to be in good condition today.

The worse places on the route were to be found on the Cleland Mill road, Carson hill, and the Moravia to New Galilee road.

DISCONNECT FOUNTAIN

The drinking fountain at the corner of North Liberty street and West Mahoning avenue has been disconnected for the winter season. This is done every year with the advent of cold weather in order to prevent the pipes from freezing and cracking.

GIRL SCOUT MEETING

The Mahoningtown Girl Scout troop will have a meeting in the Mahoning school portable at 4 o'clock today. Miss Lucille McGuire, lieutenant, will have a class in fire building, and Mrs. E. W. Guy, captain, will teach compass work.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of Beaver Falls, announce the birth of a daughter on Wednesday, November 15. Mrs. Miller will be remembered by her many friends here as Miss Verna Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fowler, North Cedar street.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. Clarence Talbert, of Akron, O., was in seventh ward for a visit on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Talbert formerly of Spruce street, New Castle, were in seventh ward from Pittsburgh Thursday.

Elmer Gaunt, of East Clayton street, left here Wednesday night to spend a week at the home of his mother in Salem, New Jersey.

Entertainment Is Sponsored By Members Of Unit One Of Croton M. E.

Members of Unit One, of the Croton M. E. church, presented an entertainment in the basement auditorium of the church last evening before a large audience.

The first part of the program consisted of a comedy playlet, entitled Mrs. Black's Pink Tea, in which Mrs. Black, portrayed by Mrs. Mildred Doerr, entertained the colored ladies of her neighborhood, on the proceeds of an accident in which she received damages of $500.

Those in the cast were Mrs. Luella Gormley, who played the part of the maid; Mrs. Nell DeGarmo, Mrs. Pansy Reiber, Mrs. Ella Schuler, Mrs. Ethel Baker, Mrs. Maud Shaffer, and the Misses Elizabeth Reynolds, Olive Soper, Mariella Blaine, and Della Emery, as guests.

Mrs. Mildred Crowe and Mrs. Luella Gormley proved big hits as the end men in the minstrel show, which concluded the program. Musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Anna Pyle, Nell DeGarmo, Pansy Reiber, Mariella Blaine, Lily Belle Hill, Catherine McCreary, and the ends, while Miss Jean DeGarmo, rendered a piano number.

Mrs. Charles E. Allen was interlocutor, and the others in the minstrel caste, were Mrs. Mildred Doerr, pianist; Mesdames, Ella Schuler, Helen Emerick, Maude Shaffer, Ethel Baker, Nora Hill and Misses Della Emery, Elizabeth Reynolds, Olive Soper, Jean DeGarmo.

During the intermission, solo numbers were rendered by Dick Blaine, and Charles Koellicker.

TALK IS NOT CHEAP IF DONE IN COURT

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The old sage who once asserted that "talk is cheap" hadn't figured on the federal trial of State Senator John J. McClure of Delaware county and 89 co-defendants on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

A tidal wave of words, already offered as testimony, set estimators to figuring how much the transcript of the testimony would cost. They reached an approximate figure of $20,000.

Each side will have to pay $10,000, it was said, for transcribing the thousands of pages.

RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA IS BELIEVED NEAR

Near Agreement On All Problems

Debts Biggest Stumbling Block In Way Of Tentative Accord

ANNOUNCEMENT MAY COME TODAY

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Official announcement of an understanding which will lead to American recognition of Soviet Russia was expected at the White House today.

A final accord on this understanding was believed to have been reached in a lengthy conference between President Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet foreign commissar.

A tentative agreement on all the problems which stood in the way of recognition were reached yesterday.

Debts Big Problem
The tentative agreement covers such delicate subjects as debts, damage claims, propaganda and protection of the rights of American residents in Russia.

Debts were the last and most difficult obstacle to be overcome. Until late yesterday, this question was described as a "serious difficulty," but a formula was worked out by the experts which it was believed would pave the way for the final understanding.

Details were withheld pending the final accord and the drafting of a joint communiqué announcing a successful conclusion of the discussions.

The communiqué may also include an announcement concerning plans for the development of trade between the two nations. Methods for improving trade relations have figured prominently in the discussions.

Killer Is Held On Charge Of Murder

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 17.—James Milton Crawford, 50, of Conway was held for court without bail by Justice H. L. Davis on a charge of murder. Crawford, telegrapher for the Pennsylvania railroad at Canton, O., is alleged to have fatally wounded his wife, Mrs. Hilda Marr Crawford, 38, when she stepped between her husband and the man with whom she had been riding in an automobile.

Crawford had returned home unexpectedly on the morning of October 31 and found his wife was not at home. When she returned, Crawford fired a volley of shots at the automobile. Crawford has been confined in the county jail since the shooting. Mrs. Crawford died in the Rochester Hospital without revealing the name of her companion.

Russia probably wasn't surprised. A lot of high-hat people are recognizing others they couldn't see four years ago.

MAHONING GRANGE

ALSO PROTESTING

At the regular meeting of the Mahoning Valley Grange No. 1649 held on Tuesday evening objection to the building of a new court house at the present time and also to the proposed viaduct from Croton to the North Hill was registered in the form of a motion. With instructions to the Secretary to send a copy of the action to the county commissioners, motion was passed by motion regularly made and passed Mahoning Valley Grange.

No. 1649 went on record as being opposed to the building of a new court house at the present time, also to the proposed viaduct from Croton to the North Hill.

BEAN-PEA HYBRID

(International News Service)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 19.—Beans or peas? That is what Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Johnson of Salt Lake City are asking concerning a strange plant that grew in their garden. Last year, while visiting an ancient cliff dwelling in Arizona, Mrs. Johnson picked up four objects which looked like either beans or peas, but were much larger.

Johnson planted one in his garden this spring. The result was a rambling bush about three feet tall with about a dozen giant pods on it.

Miss Calvin Tells Girl Reserves Of 'World Situation'

Message Is Highlight Of Meeting In Y. W. C. A.—Girls Dance Tonight

The principal feature of the Senior Girl Reserves meeting at the Y. W. C. A. last Monday evening, was an address by Miss Elsie Calvin, of the Senior High School history department, who spoke on "The International Situation at Present."

The topic was one of mutual interest for all the girls, and was very much appreciated and enjoyed. Hopes were expressed that Miss Calvin would speak again in the near future.

Following the main address, devotionals were led by Pauline Boeber, and two popular selections were rendered by the vocal trio of the Senior high school, consisting of Ruth Wilkison, Cecelia Hasulak, and Mary Virginia Roberts. These numbers were "Sleep, Soldier Boy, Sleep," and an original composition by Miss Gladys Rich, former supervisor of music in the New Castle schools.

The event commanding the attention of every Girl Reserve at present is the dance which is to be held tonight in the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A. This is not a means of raising money, but purely for the entertainment of the members. Therefore, those attending will be exclusively Girl Reserves and their guests. A popular orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the evening.

MONITORS WILL ORGANIZE. On Tuesday morning, a meeting of the Monitors was held in the cafeteria. The Monitors are planning to organize, and to participate as a group in the various school activities. Bob Allen had charge of the meeting, and appointed the following nominating committee:

Charles Dinsmore, James Rankin, Richard Ramsey, Walter Conover, and Glen Peebles.

This committee is to nominate candidates for the various offices of the organization. The Monitor badges which were bought by the Student Council were distributed. The group will assemble again in the near future.

Hi-Y Fellows Will Stage Party Monday

Plans For Event Complete — Boys Adopt Official Club Emblem

Several important matters were discussed at the regular weekly meeting of the Hi-Y on Monday evening. Final arrangements were made for the Hi-Y party which will be held next Monday evening, November 20, at a Youngstown road inn.

Harry McClelland, the club's advisor, presented to the boys several samples of different types of emblems, one of which was accepted as the official emblem of the club. Mr. McClelland also explained plans for the older boys' conference, which is to be held at Butler on December 1-2-3. The New Castle Hi-Y has been honored by being invited to take charge of the devotional period at the conference. The invitation has been accepted, and it is expected that a large number of delegates from this city will attend the conference.

Following the meeting, a theater party was held, and the majority of the members were present.

FACULTY MEMBERS ILL. Miss Helen Westlake, school librarian; Mrs. Viola Healy, Miss Elizabeth Parker and Miss Mary Purdue, all teachers, were reported ill at their homes on Thursday.

STUDENT LEADERS SPEAK IN CHAPEL

Class, Organization Heads Heard In Special Sophomore Assembly

On Thursday morning, under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Van Divort, an interesting and enlightening chapel program was presented to the sophomore classes. The presidents of the various school organizations and classes took part. The purpose of this assembly was to acquaint the sophomores with the activities of the various organizations of the school.

Bob Allen, president of the Student Council, took charge and introduced the speakers. The program was as follows:

Music—Orchestra.
Devotionals.
Introductory remarks—Bob Allen.
President, Senior A Class, Heber Baldwin.
President, Senior B class, James Goodchild.
President, Sophomore B class, Paul Papenhausen.

Business Mgr., "Ne-Ca-Hi", Geo. W. Conway, Jr.
President, French club, Marian Bergland.
Consul Primus, Senatus Romanus, Ralph Davies.
President, Hi-Y club, Howard Rumbaugh.
President, Girl Reserves, Jane Becht.
Captain of Football Team, Walter Komine.

Latin Group Party Proves Big Success

Senatus Romanus Has First Social In Seven Years; Many Features

The Senatus Romanus last Friday night, held their first party in a period of seven years. Naturally, this event was anticipated with much enthusiasm, and a large gathering attended the function in the school library. Approximately thirty were present.

An impromptu game broke the ice and set the frolics in good spirits for the remainder of the evening. Alma Broadbent had charge of the games. Music was furnished by a radio which one of the members had had installed, and dancing was enjoyed by those present. Topping off a very merry time, refreshments were served in the room adjoining the library.

The committee in charge is to be commended for the success of the party. Miss Mary Van Divort, faculty supervisor of the organization, Miss Ola Rogers, and Mr. Anderson, who were special guests chaperoned. The party has stirred up much enthusiasm in the organization, and is only the beginning of a splendid program planned for this semester.

SEMESTER HALF OVER. Another sign that the first semester is rapidly drawing to a close is that students can be seen daily pondering over election cards for next semester. The sophomores, also, are beginning to feel at home, and no longer can be distinguished from other students by their expressions. That is a hopeful sign.

The half-way mark of the semester was passed last week.

PLAYS AT SCHOOL. Dr. J. Menzies Van Zandt, distinguished pianist, appeared on the high school stage Tuesday morning in a program of famous musical selections. Dr. Van Zandt was brought by the music department, and the program was under the direction of Joseph Replogle.

Following school on Thursday, Dr. Van Zandt appeared in a special concert before the faculty of the high school.

BLACK, more than any other color, runs or gets dull-looking, but this black-and-yellow plaid is bright as new after a year of Chipso washings.

BELIEVE it or not—Claire's crisp red-and-white bloomer frock is a year old! Chipso has soaked dirt out of it time and again without fading it.

FOR 12 MONTHS Chipso has kept Mary's coral broadcloth dress looking as new and smart as when it came from the shop.

THE DOLLS' names are Gloria, Barbara and Patsy. Their clothes are washed in Chipso, too!

"Our clothes look new for more than one season's wear . . . thanks to Chipso" says young mother of three happy little girls

Mrs. George J. O'Brien of Providence, R. I., looks too carefree to know about the actual work of housekeeping. "But I do!" she assured us. "I do my own housework and all the children's washing, besides washing my own house-dresses and underwear and good linens."

"I use CHIPSO for everything. It makes washing easy because it soaks the children's dirtiest clothes clean. I don't have to wear them out with rubbing. And Chipso leaves colors bright and fresh. Our clothes look new for more than one season's wear. "I used to think I could not use my general laundry soap for things like the children's knitted sweaters, but I found that Chipso leaves woollens beautifully soft."

"Chipso is fine for dishes and cleaning, too. It doesn't coarsen my hands. A soap that is safe for the skin is bound to be all right for nice fabrics, I think, even if it is a practical soap for getting dirt out in a hurry."

Chipso is not adulterated with the harsh substances contained in inferior soaps which gradually weaken fabrics and dull their color. Chipso loosens dirt harmlessly by RICHER SUDS. That is why Chipso-washed clothes stay new-looking for years.

Don't endanger the clothes you have spent good money for by washing them in cheap flakes or strong granulated soaps and powders. Get Chipso from your grocer. At its low price, Chipso is the biggest value in rich, safe soap on the market today!

OVERCOATS SUITS or $15.75 TOPCOATS

AT THEIR PRICE

Why pay $5 to $8 more for an Overcoat, Suit or Topcoat when Cramer's offer you everything you want for $15.75. The reason? The woollens were purchased months ago—before the textile codes forced prices sky-high; otherwise we could not possibly offer so much clothing value for so little.

The Overcoats—

All brand new, this year's styling. Single and double breasted coats—half belt or belt all-around. Meltons, Fleeces, Boucles, Blues, Browns, Tans, Oxford and Greys.

The Topcoats—

In this group you will find every type of Topcoat you could want. Raglans or set-in sleeves, half belt or belt all-around. The fabrics and patterns are the ones men are seeking this season.

The Suits—

They'll meet every demand for quality and economy. An endless variety of shades and patterns including Blue, Oxford, Brown, Burgundy, Bankers Grey—plain colors, stripes, checks, plaids. All are in sturdy fabrics that will retain their shape and hold their crease.

SPECIAL—Ask to see our new Chesterfield Overcoat; double breasted, Oxford Grey Melton with Velvet Collar and full celanese lined at only $15.75.

This Year's STYLE at Last Year's PRICE—Suits—Topcoats—Overcoats $12.75

(No Charge For Alterations)

Remember that we plan our merchandising many months in advance, because every Cramer garment is manufactured in the Cramer factory. For this reason you are paying no increase on woollens or linings and you save all the increased costs. But . . . when these are gone there'll be no more like them at $12.75. Buy today!

Germany Ready To Talk Arms

Germany Will Discuss Arms Reducing With Either France Or Great Britain

(International News Service) BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Although watching closely the disarmament developments in Paris and London, the German government remained officially silent today regarding the Europe-wide attempts to break up the arms impasse.

In view of the frequent reports that both Britain and France were ready to discuss the disarmament situation with Germany, the foreign office was watched closely for an expression of attitude.

It appeared the Hitler government was ready to talk with either country, but whether she would make the first overture, as France desires, remained an unanswered question.

Remonetization Of Silver Urged By Key Pittman

Senator From Nevada Is Strong Advocate Of Remonetizing Silver

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Remonetization of silver will do more to restore economic prosperity than any other single relief measure, Senator Pittman (D) of Nevada, declared today in opening a conference called by the committee for the nation to consider plans for expanding the currency.

Pittman reviewed the history of silver as a coin. He asserted its monetization by the United States would be a "sound, safe and natural reflation of the currency of the world and start the purchase of our surplus productions by peoples who have been deprived of this opportunity through the unnatural depression in the exchange value of their money—silver."

NO CHANGE IN PRICE FOR GOLD

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—For the fourth successive day the price of newly mined domestic gold remained at $33.56, per ounce the treasury announced today. The price of $33.56, highest since President Roosevelt first announced his gold purchase plan, was reached on Tuesday and since has remained unchanged.

Pennsylvania Somewhat Behind Majority Of States Says Labor Department

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER, Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—Pennsylvania lagged materially behind the majority of the states in recovery last month, Secretary of Labor Perkins reported today. Miss Perkins made public figures of the labor department's survey of employment and payroll changes within identical industrial establishments. She reported that within the 4293 Pennsylvania establishments studied, employment fell off 1.8 per cent and payrolls increased 1.1 per cent in October as compared with September.

This record was in decided contrast to conditions in other parts of the country. Employment increased in 32 states and fell off in only 16. The decline was greater in Pennsylvania than in all save eight of the states.

Thirty-four states had greater increases in payrolls than did the Keystone state. In Ohio, payrolls climbed 3.6 per cent and employment increased one-half of one per cent.

Surprise Court Attempt Is Seen To Halt Repeal

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—A surprise court attempt to prevent prohibition repeal from becoming effective December 5 was being planned today by a group of fighting drys.

Although dubious of the success of the movement, since 37 states have voted for repeal and the last necessary ratification convention will be held December 5, the dry group is exploring every possible legal angle of attack.

Canon William Sheafe Chase, secretary of the International Reform Federation, disclosed that the movement is not only under way to prevent ratification from becoming effective but that the court battle will be continued in any event. "We must find a way to hold up repeal on December 5, and we have plans," said the Rev. Mr. Chase. "We are not ready to disclose them but we will in due time."

Parliament Given Message By King

British Ruler Expresses Hope That Arms Difficulties Can Be Surmounted

(International News Service) LONDON, Nov. 17.—Touching briefly upon the disarmament problem now confronting Europe, King George in a message to parliament today expressed the hope the arms difficulties would be surmounted. The king briefly regretted the failure of the world economic conference to reach conclusions on any important questions, and he thanked his subjects for the sacrifices they have made in aiding economic recovery.

Action Of Chase Bank Has Amazed Senate Committee

Seek To Find Out Why The Chase Bank Loaned $72,900,000 To Finance Syndicates

WERE ENGAGED IN WAR WITH FOX

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The amazing action of the Chase National Bank under Albert H. Wiggin, in using $72,900,000 of their depositors' funds to finance banking syndicates in a war with William Fox for control of Fox Films in 1929 and 1930, was probed today at the senate banking inquiry.

The contest cost the bank untold millions of dollars, wrecked one private banking firm and gave the participants a huge "white elephant" after they drove Fox out of his own company. Wiggin, Harley L. Clark, Chicago utility millionaire, and Murray W. Dodge, head of the Chase securities corporation, led the war on Fox through the General Theatres Equipment Corporation.

Traded Common Stocks
The bank loans included $44,702,812 to syndicates, that traded in common stocks of the G. T. E. and Fox Films, Inc. Loans of $28,197,200 were made to syndicates that floated bonds for the G. T. E. All the stock syndicates were managed by Pynchon & Company, the bankers who failed because of these deals, while the Chase Securities Corporation managed the syndicates floating bonds.

The total of $72,900,012 was loaned in nine months, between Aug. 7, 1929, and May 7, 1930. Another $1,285,765 was loaned a series of syndicates in 1931.

The bank's money was used lavishly. On May 7, 1930, when the battle was at its height, the bank loaned $42,527,812 to two syndicates engaged in fighting Fox. On April 23, 1930, the loans totaled $20,325,000.

Hit-Skip Driver Admits Striking Girl Along Road

Raymond Kohlmeier, Of Boyer, Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Failing To Stop

Pleading guilty to a charge of failing to stop and render assistance, following an accident, Raymond Kohlmeier, of Boyer, was held in jail in Franklin, in default of $1250 bail.

Kohlmeier admitted he was the driver of the truck which struck and seriously injured Jennie Croyle, Clintonville high school student, last Monday.

Miss Croyle, who was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital here, following the accident, is still in a critical condition, her condition today being stated as just fair by hospital authorities.

Medical Aid For Needy Promised

Lawrence County To Share State Grant For Unemployed Care

BOOST COAL QUOTA AS MERCURY FALLS

Medical aid to Lawrence county's jobless and needy this winter was assured today as a result of the State Emergency Relief board's allocation in Harrisburg of $100,000 for medical service to persons eligible for relief because of unemployment throughout the state.

It was explained by State Director Eric H. Biddle that this sum would be distributed by the county boards through the cooperation of medical, nursing, dental and druggists' organizations.

Lawrence county shared in the board's additional allotment of $157,750 to 37 counties for fuel during November, made necessary by the unprecedented cold wave that struck this week. Lawrence county received a $5,000 sum for coal, its earlier $3,000 allotment having been exhausted.

The county, along with 13 others, received $1,000 additional this month for food.

Meeting in Harrisburg, the state board also granted a sum of $50,000 for the bureau of transients and $500,000 for clothing and $500,000 for shoes. It was not known just what part of these appropriations Lawrence county would receive.

Sentenced Bandit Enters Protest On Fairness Of Judge

McKeesport Youth Says He Should Have Gotten As Stiff A Sentence As Buddies

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 17.—"It wasn't right that he should give the other three guys in the gang 20 to 40 years and me only 18 to 36 years."

Raymond Patrick, 18, of McKeesport, in those terms expressed his displeasure at the "inequity" with which Judge Davis W. Henderson sentenced his companions for their part in a wave of crimes that taxed enforcement activities of Youghiogheny Valley police for weeks.

Among the law infringements ascribed to the quartet by police are trussing, robbing and other mistreatments of John W. Sailor, 68 Steward township farmer; theft of two automobiles, and engagement of Connellsville police in a running gun battle.

Others upon whom sentence was pronounced were Calvin Russell, 18, of Dunbar; Russell Simpson, 18, and William Meredith, both of McKeesport.

Seadrome Plans Are Very Vague

No Definite Information Is Obtainable On Plan To Span Atlantic With Seadromes

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The will-o-the-wisp answer to the question of whether the United States will finance the proposed construction of a series of "seadromes" across the Atlantic ocean fitted today from department to department—state, commerce and interior—and the question still remained unanswered.

Under the plan, the seadromes would be "anchored" at 500-mile intervals along the southern air route to Europe but, following revelation by Secretary of Interior Ickes that the project had not been considered "very seriously," it became known that Secretary of Commerce Roper's announcement of the plan was either premature or based on an apparent misunderstanding.

Being Considered.
According to informed sources, a report on legal phases of the plan came up and was accepted by the public works administration, over which Secretary Ickes presides. Roper took this to mean acceptance of the entire program, and made the announcement.

Ickes' view is that international questions, as well as those governing legal use of public works money, call for further examination before any definite action is taken. He must be assured also that construction of the floating landing stages would be within the United States so that workers would benefit from the expenditure of public funds.

The plan is still before the public works board, however, and while it has not been adopted as a federal project, it has not been rejected.

Gain Is Shown In Collections

Tax On Beer Swells Pennsylvania Total By $5,042,984 Report Shows

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The long arm of the federal tax collector reached into Pennsylvania for a grand total of $114,254,637 during the fiscal year ending June 30 according to the bureau of internal revenue.

The figure represented a gain in tax collections of approximately 5 per cent over the preceding 12 months. Analysis of the collections revealed that had it not been for the legalizing of 3.2 beer, which put $5,042,984 in the federal treasury, the amount gathered in Pennsylvania last year would have fallen below that collected the year before.

City Fund Shortage Seen As Bringing Crisis In Ohio City

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 17.—Unless financial aid is received from some source, the public schools of Alliance will suspend at the close of the present semester, February 20. This announcement was made today at the office of Supt. E. F. Stanton, following an informal meeting of the Board of Education. In the meantime a city-wide movement is gaining momentum to crystallize public sentiment to the end that steps will be taken by the Legislature and by the tax-collecting agencies of the county to avert this impending crisis in the city's educational circles.

If you care to match your compact to your dress you can be sure you're very much in style. It's quite the latest fad.

SMOKING HEATER CAUSE OF ALARM

Smoke, which issued from a heater under repair in the Lusk building, on East Washington street, caused an alarm at 10:30 this morning.

The repairmen had disconnected the smoke pipe and a little smoke filtered into Clutton's Drug store and the Wolf Shop, leading the occupants to believe a fire was in progress. The damage was negligible.

Bootleggers Take Up Gasoline Sales As Newest Racket

Bootleggers Have Defrauded State And Nation Out Of $200,000,000 In Taxes

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—War to the hilt will be declared on "big time" liquor racketeers who, foreseeing prohibition repeal, have turned to gasoline bootlegging with such success they have defrauded state and federal governments of an estimated $200,000,000 in taxes in 1932 alone, state officials declared today.

Mark Graves, president of the state commission, announced representatives of nine states will meet here November 27 to confer on ways of dealing with the problem which, he said, has reached proportions in neighboring states as great as in New York, where it is believed the racketeers did a $15,000,000 business last year.

States which will be represented at the conference are Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont and New York.

"Closer coordination of tax collection efforts between states would materially reduce gasoline tax evasion," Graves said.

Oil Production Shows Decline

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Domestic and foreign crude oil stocks declined 776,000 barrels for the week ending November 11, the interior department announced today.

Import statistics showed a drop of 253,000 barrels in foreign oil receipts. Despite reduced refinery operations, refinery and bulk gasoline stocks increased about 250,000 barrels.

Men's Class Has Banquet In First Church

More Than Three Hundred Hear Dr. S. E. Garth Of Pittsburgh Church
Speak

The members of the Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church, of which J. R. Hodge is president, proved themselves most efficient chefs and capable waiters Thursday evening when they both prepared and served a most delicious dinner in the church dining room to more than three hundred guests.

During the serving of dinner the Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of Dr. W. A. Womer, gave a splendid concert. Special numbers included a trombone solo, "Holy City" by Tony Cluzza; tuba solo, "Bill Trick"; piano number, "Bob Brown" and violin number, Harold Matthews.

Dr. N. A. White pastor of the church had the invocation as the group sat down to dine. Walter Reynolds, teacher of the men's class introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. S. E. Garth, pastor of the Christ Methodist church of Pittsburgh, whose address was based on the theme of Brotherhood, taking as his subject "Where Do You Live?"

Dr. Garth asked the group "Where Do You Live?" then indicated that the answer depended on geographic, mental and spiritual placement. He suggested that we may live in a deaf man's world, inasmuch as those who do not hear Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, the song of birds or the laughter of the baby; others may live in a blind man's world, never seeing the sunset, the rainbow or the colorful beauties of nature; still others may live in a dumb man's world, one may talk to them endlessly but never a response do you get.

"The place where we live makes a big difference, whether we are optimists or pessimists," he continued, "and this will determine how youth, the aged or needy look to us." The speaker suggested that if we could take a journey down dreamland and visit three cities on the shores of the Sea of Life, we might then choose well where we would like to live. He said we could visit Trifletown, the club of gossip and trifling way of looking on life; we could visit Cynsburg with its communistic philosophy and agnostic society, without churches or progressive business, and who would want to live there? or, we might choose Fearville, back from the shores because the inhabitants are afraid to risk the storms of life, and last, we might visit Hope City, a center of hope for the future, with growing interests, enlarging businesses and progressive people, taking the other villages into the corporation.

He concluded by saying it is not so much where we live, but that we live right. He urged men to recognize the significance of the place we live and its ideal location in the hearts of men; he cited the cases of David and Jonathan, of Damon and Pythias as true examples of bringing an ideal brotherhood into the hearts of men.

Paul In Athens

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Acts 17:28—"In him we live, and move, and have our being."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Nov. 19 is Acts 17:16-34, the Golden Text being Acts 17:28, "In him we live, and move, and have our being.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

PAUL CAME to Athens not as a sight-seer, but as a soul-seeker; not as a tourist, but as a theologian. And what a place for theology Athens was, with its more than thirty thousand gods, so that it was said to be easier to find a god than to find a man in Athens!

How Paul was affected by what he saw in this ancient city of Greek culture is told us thus by Luke: "Now while Paul waited at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him as he beheld the city full of idols." Paul was deeply moved at this prevalence of idolatry. Luke says he suffered a "paroxysm" as the result of all he saw: Altars to shame, to rumor, to force, to philanthropy and even "to an unknown God." Paul saw in it all the prostitution of religion to base and degrading appeals. That which should have given light had itself become darkness, therefore Paul's "paroxysm" of provocation in the midst of "the glory that was Greece."

How Paul Affected Athens

What effect Paul had upon Athens we can readily discern from Luke's record. In the synagogue there was no apparent effect, though "he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with them that met him." Athens and its idolatry had so deadened their sensibilities that they took Paul's message as just another message and they neither believed nor disbelieved. They were not enough concerned to persecute him as had been his experience in other synagogues.

To the Athenians Paul was just another peddler of new philosophies: "a babbler" they called him, or "seed picker," who had come to scatter a few seeds of thought among them: "certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, 'What would this babbler say? Other, he seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached Jesus and the resurrection. And they took hold of him and brought him to Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new teaching is, which is spoken by thee. . . (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or hear some new thing.) And how tactfully Paul preached to them the newest doctrine ever heard on Mars Hill!

Paul's Sermon on Mars Hill
"Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are very religious." Thus tactfully Paul began and he had their attention and interest from the start. Like a good teacher, he proceeded from the known to the unknown as he used the inscription on one of their own altars as the text for his sermon: "I found also an inscription, TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this I set forth unto you." Then he proceeded to tell them of the true God as Creator of heaven and earth; as the giver of life and the orderer of the affairs of all races; as a God who is yet immanent in the affairs of men, "not far from each one of us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being." He even quoted their own poets who spoke of men as the offspring of God. He could not lose their interest with this tactful tie-up of his message to their own altars and literature, even though he goes on to rebuke their idolatry as a belittling of so great a God. But all this is but preparatory to his real message regarding Jesus Christ as "the man whom God hath ordained to judge the world in righteousness, whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead." Thus Paul made the cross to tower over the wrecks of time, for even on Mars Hill he is "determined to know nothing save Jesus Christ and him crucified."

Pupils Ask Parties Be Given Attention

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 17.—A committee of the Butler Senior Hi-Y club has asked the Butler Board of Education to supervise the class dances and other social events of the school year.

Failure of the board to provide chaperonage for parties has encouraged drinking and other abuses, they claim. Outsiders were blamed for taking liquor to the parties and circulating it among the students.

How To Kill Off The Bootleggers

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The fight against prohibition cannot end until "proper regulatory laws have been enacted in Pennsylvania," Mrs. Graham Dougherty, former chairman of the Pennsylvania division of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, believes.

"If we are to put the bootlegger out of business we must have reasonably low prices for liquor made possible by low federal and state taxes and accessible places where liquor may be purchased."

"Old Dobbin" Coming Back To The Farm

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 17.—Old Dobbin, whose popularity began to wane years ago with the advent of motor vehicles, is returning in full force to farms near here. At public sales in the county this year, farmers have bought more than 350 horses and county agent D. K. Sloan estimates that at least 150 others have been brought into the county from other sources.

300,252 Students In Philadelphia

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—A total of 300,252 students, representing the largest enrollment in the history of the Philadelphia public school system, are attending classes in city institutions this fall, according to the board of education. The enrollment represents an increase of 16,129 pupils over the same period last year and is explained, officials believe, by the NRA industrial codes barring children of 14 to 16 years of age from work.

Yes, But Where Are "Big Black Bears?"

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 17.—Despite their recent report that Pennsylvania has more bears than any other state in the union, five of the seven state game commissioners failed to find the bears during their annual bear hunt near here recently.

Commission members in the party included Adolf Mueller, Norristown, president; S. H. Williams, Pittsburgh; J. O. Creveling, Wilkes-Barre; Dr. W. H. Moore, Philadelphia; and Ralph Eckenstein, Williamsport.

Although they saw no bears to shoot, the game commissioners carried home with them a supply of birds and squirrels.

"Smoky City" Is Showing Comeback

However Doctors Find That Pittsburgh Was Healthier With Men Idle

By JAMES C. KINKAID
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—America's "smoky city" is once again getting back into its stride of soot and grime with industrial revival and approaching winter threatening the city with more smoke and air pollution than for several years.

H. B. Mellor, director of smoke regulations, has already issued a warning against smoky furnaces as menaces to public health.

Since the boom days of 1928 and 1929, the death rate has showed a steady decrease, Dr. P. W. Marks, director of the bureau of infectious diseases, announced. He added that while there were many other factors which had caused the drop, the lack of smoke is a possible factor which should be considered.

The death rate has shown a very marked decrease in the last few years," Dr. Marks said. "Last year it was lower than in any other year of the city's history. How much, if any, of the decrease can be attributed to clear skies is problematical, although there are some striking correlations between the figures."

The death rate for the last five years were: 1928—15.5; 1929—14.6; 1930—13.9; 1931—14.1; 1932—12.7. Indications are that 1933 will show a similarly low figure.

Prison Has Own Airplane Landing

(International News Service)
LEWISBURG, Pa., Nov. 17.—Northeastern penitentiary, federal "house of correction" here, has its own port of entry and departure for airplanes.

Planes bearing federal prisoners consigned to the penitentiary no longer land at Sunbury airport, but use, instead, a field which recently was cleared and equipped for emergency landings just outside the prison walls.

One Rhode Island prisoner already has been brought here by plane, the ship landing on the new field.

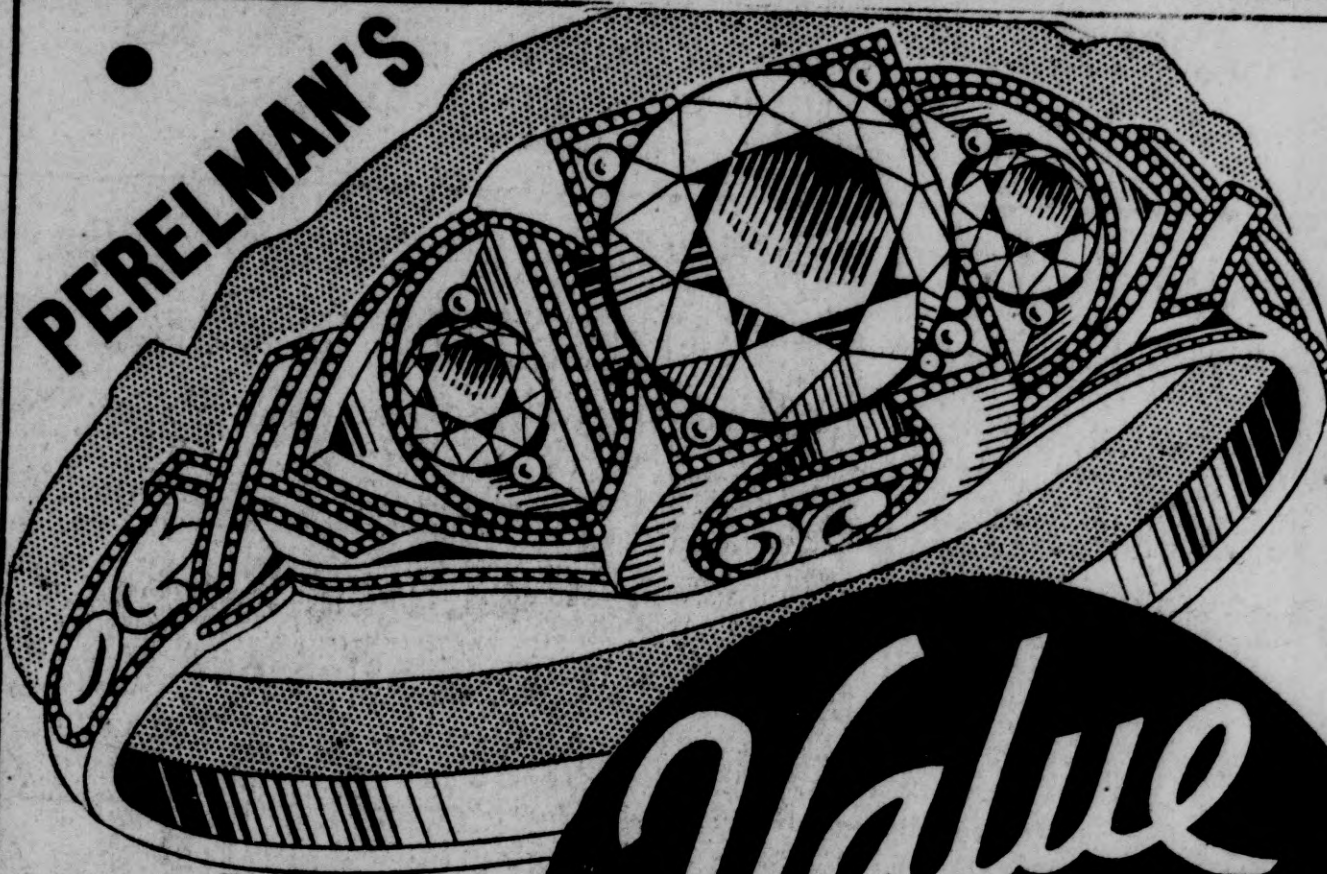

Patriotism Won But Not Much

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.— Fifty years ago, Mrs. Anna Walters was given a $2.50 gold piece as a present on her 40th birthday.

For a half century, Mrs. Walters kept the shining bit of metal in a chamols bag in her bureau drawer at her Millford township home in Somerset county.

However, patriotism won out when President Roosevelt called for all gold to be returned to the treasury. She gave the coin to a friend to turn in at a bank here.

The friend fulfilled his duties. "This coin is worthless," the teller told the coin bearer. "It's gold plated—and counterfeit."

Hope Wanes For Freighter Crew

Believe All Of 29 In Crew
Of Abandoned Freighter
Saxilby Are Drowned

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 17.—Abandoning hope for the crew of the British freighter Saxilby, shipping circles today agreed the 29 seamen must have drowned after taking to their boats in mountainous seas Wednesday morning.

With more than two full days having elapsed since the Saxilby's first SOS signals were heard and the men still unsighted by any of several ships which reached the scene of the disaster, it was believed certain they had perished in the terrific gale, which severely buffeted even the giant passenger liner Berengaria.

The Berengaria's staff officers after reaching the scene and conducting a lengthy and fruitless search, said it would have been virtually impossible for the men to have survived.

Bank

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—Four Johnstown men were under indictment here today charged with misapplication of $10,000 in funds and credits of the First National bank of Johnstown on November 17, 1930. The indictments were returned late yesterday by the federal grand jury against David Barry, Jacob M. Murdoch, Harry Swank and Patrick F. McAneny.

According to the indictment, Barry was president of the institution at the time of the offense. Murdoch and Swank were vice presidents. McAneny was cashier. All the men were members of the bank's directorate.

The indictment charges the acceptance of a $10,000 demand note from Emmanuel J. Young, the note is alleged to be operating under the supervision of a conservator.

Nazi Propaganda Charges Are Made

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Evidence showing that German Nazi propaganda organizations have been set up in Chicago and Milwaukee has been disclosed to the House Immigration Committee. Chairman Samuel Dickstein (D) of New York, said today.

"They are organized in Chicago and Milwaukee and in other places in addition to New York," Dickstein said.

With the investigation of the committee into Nazi propaganda temporarily in abeyance until Dec. 4, Dickstein continued to receive information of Nazi movements behind closed doors.

Dollar Rises In London Market

See Injection Of Some New Factor Into Battle For Control

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 17.—Injection of some new factor in the battle to control the American dollar on the world's exchanges was seen today in a sharp recovery in United States currency on the London market.

Although attended by violent fluctuations, the dollar ruled considerably above yesterday's record closing price. At the start of trading, the dollar stood at $5.30 to the pound sterling against yesterday's close of $5.50. But at 11 a. m. it was down to $5.38.

Reports circulated in Wall Street yesterday that the United States government planned action to stop the purchase of foreign securities by American financial houses in an effort to end the flight of capital from New York that has pushed the dollar down to unprecedented peacetime levels. were held at least partially responsible for today's recovery.

Foreign exchange traders could not recall an occasion since the outbreak of the war when the dollar, in relation to the pound sterling, fluctuated as much as 20 cents between one day's close and another's opening.

Beck Critical On NRA Program

Pennsylvania Congressman Delivers Stirring Speech At New Haven, Conn.

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 17.—Sharp criticism of the Roosevelt administration's NRA policies, tempered with praise for its energy and government expense cutting, stood out today as keynotes of the address of Representative James M. Beck of Pennsylvania, delivered last night at the annual meeting of the Connecticut Manufacturers association.

Beck, a noted defender of and authority on the constitution, declared the constitution is seriously threatened by the administration policy of hurdling legal mandate and moral authority on pretext of economic emergency. He asserted the NRA methods "illegal" and "ruthless." If the written constitution can be suspended during any emergency we are not living under a written government of limited powers at all, he declared.

Gets Five Crops From Orange Tree

(International News Service)

SHARON HILL, Pa., Nov. 17.—For the fifth consecutive year, a tree on the lawn of Mrs. J. Rodman Kulp is about to present its annual orange crop.

The oranges, which began to form in July, average about six inches in circumference. But even when ripe the oranges are as sour as lemons. Mrs. Kulp said the tree is about seven years old and grew from a seed that came from Florida. She plans to experiment with grafting to see whether or not the fruit can be made to grow larger and sweeter.

Japanese Cabinet Discusses Budget

TOKYO, Nov. 17.—The Japanese cabinet today undertook discussion of the 1934 budget, which in its draft form provides for arms expenditures larger than any year since 1921. Excepting only last year's.

The total budget calls for expenditures of 2,017,000,000 yen (about $445,757,000). A figure 221,000,000 yen ($70,432,000) below that of last year but otherwise setting a peace-time record.

GOVERNMENT RULING

ends confusion on bran products

TO PROTECT the buying public, the United States Food and Drug Administration has advised that every package of cereal labeled "Bran" state on the label exactly what it contains. If less than 50% is actually bran, the percentage should be printed on the carton. If other parts of wheat are included, a qualifying phrase explaining this should be added.

Before this ruling, it was not easy for the purchaser to distinguish between a cereal that was entirely bran, or all bran with flavoring, and another that was mostly wheat.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is labeled "ALL-BRAN Deliciously Flavored with Malt, Sugar and Salt," a statement which describes the product fairly and honestly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN corrects most types of common constipation safely and pleasantly. It furnishes the "bulk" needed to promote normal elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B and iron.

For most kinds of common constipation, two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are enough. In chronic cases, two tablespoonfuls with each meal. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables.

However, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Certain types of intestinal disorders should be treated only on a physician's advice.

When you buy a bran cereal, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN because it furnishes "bulk" in concentrated form for satisfactory results. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Other Kellogg Products with Bran

- Kellogg's Bran Flakes, with other parts of wheat, now contain more than 50% bran.
- Kellogg's PEP contains less than 50% bran and is now labeled "Toasted Wheat with Extra Bran Added."

*These products, while mildly laxative in character, are popular mainly as delicious, healthful ready-to-eat cereals—and are not recommended primarily for the relief of constipation.

State Crop Report Fairly Encouraging

Farm Prices Show Considerable Improvement Over Early Months Of Spring

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—October weather for harvesting in Pennsylvania was ideal, the federal-state crop reporting service revealed in its monthly report which said that the month brought a pronounced increase in potato production and in corn, buckwheat, tobacco and pear crops.

Potato yields are running considerably higher than was anticipated a month ago, the report said. The severe freeze on October 25 damaged the Potter county crop considerably. Temperature during the month averaged four-fifths of a degree below normal. Frosts held off until about the middle of October in the northern counties and a large acreage of late crops reached maturity.

Hens' egg production dropped slightly from a year ago but milk production increased. The farm price situation was reported improved considerably from the low of March and April.

Insects and diseases caused extensive damage to the state's apple crop, bringing slightly higher prices for Grade A fruit.

VOLANT

P. T. A. MEETS

The November meeting of the Volant Parent-Teacher Association was held in the Methodist church on Monday evening, November 13 at eight o'clock with a very good attendance. In the absence of the chaplain, E. D. Thompson, and T. C. Blevins had charge of the devotionals.

The program of the evening was in charge of Prof. W. H. Beggs and was as follows:

"Hearing Things At Night"—Boys chorus

Baritone Horn Solo—William Hunt

Musical Reading—June Cummings

"Has Anyone Here Seen Jack"—Boys chorus

Duet, "Johnnie Sands"—Vincent Thompson and Frances Steve

A one act play, "Elmer," was presented by the following high school students—

Elmer Collier—William Hunt

Susan Collier—June Cummings

Jean Collier and Janie Collier, twins—Lois Frankenberg and Betty Layton

Mrs. Collier—Frances Steve

Russ Jamison—Vincent Thompson

Herbert, Janies friend—Dwight Kyle

Pannie Belle, the cook—Jim Allen

Following the program, reports were given by the delegates who attended the P. T. A. convention in Pittsburgh—Mr. Blevins, Mrs. Florence Miller, Mrs. Edith Simpson.

Mr. Millison gave a short talk on "How to interest the fathers in the P. T. A."

The president, J. B. Watson, appointed several members to attend different P. T. A. meetings in the county this month. Several new members were reported by the secretary. After the penny march refreshments were served by the committee.

"Cafeteria Court" Being Advocated

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—A "self-service" traffic court—where violators of automobile and parking laws can pay fines and thus avoid personal appearances before a magistrate—is urged by the Philadelphia Bureau of Municipal Research. Stating that the "cafeteria court" would be a vast improvement over the present system in this city, the bureau adds that it has been used successfully in many large cities for years.

Bruin Is Roped From Apple Tree

Bears Are Said To Be Plentiful
In Potter County

(International News Service)
LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Nov. 17.—C. E. Logue of First Fork, trapping instructor for the State Game commission, and Lester Brown, Cameron county native, roped a bear from an apple tree on the farm of William Thompson, Wharton, Potter county. The bear was uninjured and the men suffered only a few scratches in getting the animal, which had been frightened by the farmer when he found it eating his apples.

The bear climbed the tree and refused to come down. Its companion climbed another tree nearby, but descended voluntarily.

Logue stated that in his years of trapping wild animals, this was the first time he had ever been summoned to get a bear out of a tree.

Bears are so plentiful in Potter county this year that they show little fear of human beings and their dwellings. Mrs. Mrs. Harry Brooks, of East Fork, heard a noise at her kitchen window recently and investigated she found a 250 pound bear there evidently attracted by the honey stored in the cellar. For fifteen minutes bruin tried to get into the house but finally gave it up and walked a slanting fence post, dropped over the fence and disappeared into the woods.

Dog Follows His Master To Lockup

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 17.—Like Mary's little lamb, everywhere that William went his dog was sure to go.

When William Lessick was arrested on a local street on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, "Jack" his five year old bulldog, followed to the city jail. After his master was put behind the bars, "Jack" raised such a howl that police finally were forced to let him go along with William into the cell. Both dog and master remained overnight.

SUGAR BEET HARVEST

(International News Service)
DENVER—Colorado, Mountain, Nebraska and Wyoming sugar beet growers will harvest 3,768,000 tons of beets this fall, 35.8 per cent more than last year, according to figures compiled by a sugar company here. The first payment on the crop will bring an estimated $10,000,000 or more to the farmers.

He Would Put Silver On Parity With Gold

(International News Service)
GETTYSBURG, Pa., Nov. 17.—Remonetization of silver or a parity with gold was advanced as the basis for prosperity by U. S. Senator Patrick A. McCarran of Nevada in an address before the annual meeting of the Adams County Bankers' Association here.

McCarran, terming silver "the money of the masses," asserted the action would open the markets of China, India and South America to the surpluses of American farms. More than 3,000,000 idle workers in silver mines would also be re-employed, he added.

Mysterious Two Million Is Aired At Senate Probe

Mystery Payment To William Fox, Film Magnate By Harley Clarke, Probed

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—A mysterious $2,000,000 payment to William Fox, the film magnate, in 1929 by Harley L. Clarke, member of a syndicate seeking control of Fox Films, was aired today at the senate banking inquiry.

The syndicate, headed by Clarke and Albert H. Wiggin, then head of the Chase National bank, ultimately drove Fox out of his film business. The syndicate's fight was financed by the Chase bank, which loaned $72,900,000 to the cause from August 7, 1929, to May 7, 1930.

The contest resulted in terrific losses for the Chase bank and the syndicate members. Clarke told how the General Theatrical Equipment Corp. was organized to acquire the Fox Films. A series of motion picture equipment companies were picked up by the G. T. E. before the battle was declared on Fox.

Clarke said the $2,000,000 was paid Fox in 1929 to settle his claims against the Mitchell Camera Co., one of the small concerns acquired by the syndicate group. Clarke also gave Fox 25,000 shares of G. T. E. stock and bought it back at $30 a share.

Gift of $750,000. "That was a gift of $750,000 in addition to the $2,000,000 in cash?"

"Yes," observed Ferdinand Pecora, the senate's special counsel, "there's another Santa Claus in the record."

The Mitchell Camera Co. deal produced another mysterious $100,000 fund that Clarke said might have to be paid to H. E. Van Dine, a Californian. Clarke said he was disputing the payment with Van Dine but had deposited the money in escrow in the Continental Illinois Trust in Chicago. Later Clarke revealed Van Dine claimed the $100,000 as a broker's fee in the Mitchell Camera deal. Pecora decided to subpoena the bank's records to solve the mystery.

City To Regulate Driveways Built Across Sidewalks

Council convened formally in the municipal building today and adopted an ordinance which regulates the construction of driveways across sidewalks and requires permits therefor and penalties for violation of its provisions.

If the person who wants to build the driveway does not own the ground he must file with the city the consent of the land owner. His plan also must be submitted to the city engineer and should the latter consider the construction dangerous he can revoke the permit and require the property owner to put the sidewalk back in safe condition.

No driveway shall be wider than 25 feet and where the distance between the curb and the sidewalk is less than three feet, the driveway shall be constructed at approximately the grade of the street and level therewith a curb erected along the sides of the driveway to the property lines, as street and alley intersections are constructed in the city.

Where the sidewalk is three feet or more the driveway may be built on a slope from the cartway to the sidewalk but in such cases the part of the sidewalk crossing the driveway must be exactly level with the remainder of the sidewalk and must be built at least eight inches thick and kept in good repair. No portion of the land between the curb and sidewalk may be paved except the 25 feet required for the driveway unless the driveway is paved continuously and on a perfect level with the sidewalk.

A penalty of $300 can be imposed for violation of the ordinance.

Mt. Jackson Has District Meeting

Annual Meeting Of The Sabbath School Association Is Held Thursday

A good attendance and a good program featured the Mt. Jackson district convention which was held at the Bethel U. P. church Thursday afternoon and evening.

The officers elected for the coming year were: president, A. W. Leslie; vice president, Frank Beal; secretary, Mrs. Frank Hoffmaster; treasurer, C. W. Stewart; children's division superintendent, Mrs. Elmer Raider; home department superintendent, Mrs. C. Bonnett; teacher training superintendent, Mrs. R. W. Harris; temperance superintendent, S. A. Cowden; adult division superintendent, H. L. McCurley; young people's division superintendent, Lee McCombs; missions superintendent, Rev. Robert Hamill; administrative superintendent, P. W. Griffin; parent training superintendent, Rev. W. S. Ingersoll; religious training superintendent, Rev. W. J. Engle.

At the afternoon session the devotionals were read by Rev. George Neill.

The theme of the program was: "Interrelationship of Congregation and Bible School," and the text, "We being many, are one body in Christ and every one members one of another." The different phases were ably discussed as follows: interrelationship in attendance, Mrs. J. C. McFate; interrelationship in worship, Mrs. R. R. Throop; interrelationship in instruction, C. A. Stewart; interrelationship in stewardship, Rev. W. S. Ingersoll.

The county officers present who made remarks were President Robert M. Strickler Jr., Vice President P. W. Griffin and Children's Division Superintendent Mrs. Albert B. Street.

The president, Mr. Leslie, presided at the afternoon session. A splendid supper was served to all delegations by a young women's class of the Bethel church, and a hearty vote of thanks and appreciation was extended to them for their hospitality by those participating.

At the evening session H. L. McCurley, the vice president, presided. Devotionals were in charge of Rev. Robert Hamill. Three discussions were made by superintendents of various Sabbath schools on "One good thing that has been accomplished during the year." This was followed by music by the Bethel U. P. Bible school and the address of the evening was delivered by the Rev. J. A. Galbraith, D. D., pastor of the Epworth M. E. church of New Castle, which was heartily appreciated by the splendid attendance.

The resolutions presented protested the return of liquor and its attending evils.

Stable Price For Gold Will Likely Come Very Shortly

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Reports from Paris that George L. Harrison, governor of the New York Federal Reserve bank, had told French financial leaders that the United States soon would fix a stable and permanent price for gold on the American market caused a flurry in Wall Street today but were promptly denied by the reserve bank.

The bank officially stated that Gov. Harrison had not informed Paris that the price of gold would be stabilized or issued any statement concerning the matter.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT IS FRUSTRATED

(International News Service) LEBANON, Pa., Nov. 17.—An attempted suicide by hanging was frustrated in a police cell here all because a furnace fire required tending.

Entering the cellar to fix the fire, a desk sergeant at city hall heard moans emanating from one of the cells. He found Steven Leese, arrested for drunkenness, suspended by his belt from the grating over the ceiling, slowly choking to death. Leese was cut down and his only injury was a bruised neck. Dependence over domestic difficulties was believed to have prompted the act.

Vote Fraud In New Orleans Was Ordered By Long

Former Dock Board Patrolman Tells Of Being Fired Because He Was Honest

(International News Service) NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 17.—Louisiana state employees who owed their jobs to the political organization dominated by Senator Huey P. Long were forced to contribute ten per cent of their salaries to the election campaign fund of Senator John H. Overton, Long supported candidate, a witness testified today at the senate's election inquiry.

Edward Blaise, a former Dock Board patrolman, made the disclosure. At the same time, Blaise charged that he was asked to commit election frauds as poll commissioner and that when he refused he was discharged.

"They gave me a list of some 30 names and I was told to vote this list during the day," Blaise told the committee inquiring into fraud charges brought by the defeated candidate, former Senator Edwin Broussard.

"None of these persons had a right to vote, and I refused to do so," Blaise said. "I also insisted on a square count of votes in my precinct."

"The next day I was fired. The boss told me: 'Since you can be of no use to us, we're letting you go.'"

FURNACES CAUSE TWO SMALL FIRES

Firemen were called to the Fifth ward twice last evening because of fires which originated from furnaces. At 5:45 last evening, an alarm was sounded from Box 55. Firemen responding to the alarm found paper afire near a furnace in the cellar of Joe Moses, 15 West Long avenue. There was no damage.

An overheated furnace pipe set fire to the woodwork in the kitchen of Joseph Charlie, of 301 Phillips street, at 6:30 last evening. The blaze was extinguished with chemicals with a small loss.

Guard Children In Boston Homes

Grandchildren And Children Of Prominent Officials Are Under Heavy Guard

(International News Service) BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Governor Ely's grandchildren, and the children of former governor Frank G. Allen and Gen. Daniel Needham, public safety commissioner, have been selected as kidnap victims and are under heavy police guard," the Boston Evening American said today.

"Plots to kidnap them have been uncovered by the state police, or threats against their safety have been received."

"Similar plots involving the families of other state officials and prominent persons are suspected, the recent guard assigned Governor Ely himself is believed to have a connection."

REPORT DOG KILLS CHICKENS IN COOP

Police received a report yesterday that a number of chickens in a coop at 105 North Lee avenue had been killed by a dog.

Correct this sentence: "She's engaged to the star quarterback," said the gossip, "and she never tells a soul."

N. R. A. can't expect a fever of patriotism if it doesn't dress its workers in uniforms to thrill the gals.

Damage Suit Against Lawyers

Charges Made That Defense Was Not Handled Properly In Case

(International News Service) CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 17.—A cross-petition demanding $500,000 from a New York law firm for alleged mismanagement of their defense in "lottery" trials in New York was filed here today on behalf of Conrad H. Mann, of Kansas City, Mo., and Frank E. Hering, of South Bend, Ind., high officers of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Swiger, Scandrett, Chambers and Landon comprised the New York legal concern named defendant. The suit was filed in the local court because of a $14,183 suit filed against Mann and Hering on August 1 when the two men were attending an Eagle's convention here. The latter action filed on behalf of the New York attorneys asked the money for fees.

In replying to the charges, a local law firm, Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, acting for Mann and Hering denied the allegations and asked for the $500,000 as alleged damages. The cross-petition charged the New York law firm handled the men's defense "recklessly, negligently and unskillfully" whereas, if a proper defense had been presented, the men would have been acquitted. Mann was pardoned from a prison sentence by President Roosevelt two days ago when the director general of the "Eagles" surrendered to serve the jail term.

Ask Extension For Operation Of Steel Code

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Officially expressing "its general satisfaction with the operation" of the steel code and "its effects on the industry," the American Iron and Steel Institute today petitioned the NRA for an extension of the code until May 1, 1936.

Resolutions to this effect were unanimously adopted by the institute and together with a detailed report of operations under the code during the 90-day trial period expiring last Sunday, were submitted to President Roosevelt.

STEALS COAL: JAILED JUSTICE HOLDS MAN

Alfred Conti, this city, was held by Justice of the Peace John Brinson, East New Castle, for the December term of court at a hearing this week on a charge of larceny of an overcoat. He posted bail for his appearance, and was released.

Conti is alleged to have stolen a coat from Steve Shaffic in October.

Morgan-Taylor At White House

Both Have Tea And Talk
Over Money Matters

NO STATEMENTS
AFTER MEETING

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—J. Pierpont Morgan, had tea at the white house just like Montagu Norman.

Mrs. Roosevelt was there all the time. The great financier came down—if official guessing is right—to get a line on President Roosevelt's new monetary policies. He and his associates—especially his associates—have been cool towards the executive's recently inaugurated gold buying program.

Morgan came with Myron Taylor, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corp. Board. They were with the president a little more than half an hour. Afterwards it was made known that they had tea and that Mrs. Roosevelt was in on the tea party.

The banker was in a genial enough mood when he left, but refused to talk about his meeting with the president.

Later, at the white house, it was made known there was little that either Morgan or Taylor could have revealed had they felt like talking.

Fire Department To Cat's Rescue

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa. Nov. 17.—While a hundred persons in the street shouted encouragement and patients staff members and visitors at the Harrisburg hospital peered from windows, members of the local fire department scaled treacherous walls in a drizzle of rain and rescued a nondescript member of the feline family.

The cat became stranded on a ledge 25 feet above the ground. William L. (Slim) McKee, six feet four, ascended the ladder and crawled along the narrow ledge to rescue the animal.

Huge Crowd At Franklin Revue

Student Musical Production
Last Night Attracts Audience Of 1800

OVER TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS TAKE PART

Eighteen hundred people liked it, and eighteen hundred people can't be wrong.

From the opening choral number to the grand finale, "The Ben Franklin Revue," with a talented cast of over two hundred students, was a definite success. The Benjamin Franklin junior high school auditorium could not have held another person—and a more appreciative audience has not been assembled there for many a moon.

Colorful bunting and summy decorations made the stage a fitting setting. A chorus of nearly 150 students, the girls wearing bright gowns and multi-shaded picture hats, and the boys attired uniformly in sailor suits, was on the stage throughout the entire evening and was an indispensable part of the production. Their choral numbers included everything from "We Sail the Ocean Blue" to "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?"

Instrumental music was furnished by the school band, led by Prof. John Paton.

Last night's success is another indication of the ability of Miss Ruth Lewis, of the Franklin faculty, who was general director of the revue and in charge of dramatics.

To Miss Esther Gibbons goes the credit for the vocal music of the evening and to Prof. John Paton the instrumental music. The dances, all of which were excellent, were directed by Miss Gertrude Gillespie. Emmet Gillespie, physical director of the school, was in charge of the tumbling exhibition on stage. Miss Ingeborg Hallgren's genius is responsible for the stage decorations. Misses Carrie and Pearl Gibbons were accompanists, and Dennis Allshouse and Dale Grove were stage managers.

Numbers in the program, in order of presentation, were as follows: Capital Ship—Chorus.

We Are the Jolly Sailor Boys—Quartet.

Sailors Hornpipe—Dance.

Quartet.

Tumbling—Tumbling Team.

Jolly Bakers—Bakers Chorus.

Toe Dance.

A Lie on the Ocean Wave—Chorus.

Topsy Dance.

Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?—Solo.

A Night in Camp—One-Act Play.

Crown Dance.

Has Anybody Here Seen My Dog Jack?—Solo.

Moonlight Is Beaming—Chorus.

Barnacle Bill the Sailor—Duet.

Final. Anchors Aweigh—Chorus.

Devotion Starts This Morning At St. Vitus Church

Mass At 9:30 O'clock Marks
Opening Of Forty Hour Devotion

This morning at 9:30 o'clock, a large crowd attended the solemn high mass in the St. Vitus church, which marked the opening of the annual forty hour devotion. Services at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night, will bring the devotion to a close. The main altar of the church has been beautifully decorated for the occasion.

During the three days the Blessed Sacrament will be exposed for adoration by members of the church. Rev. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of the church, was the celebrant this morning. Rev. S. Ippolito of Mahoningtown was the deacon and Rev. Albert Farina, assistant pastor of the St. Vitus church was sub-deacon. Following the mass this morning, 200 girls dressed in white and about 50 altar boys marched in church.

Tonight a service and sermon will be preached in Italian. Rev. S. Ippolito delivering it. Saturday morning the Blessed Sacrament will be exposed at the 7:00 o'clock mass. Another mass will be said at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday morning. At this mass all the children of the parish who have made their first Holy Communion will receive Communion.

During the three days the members of the parish are expected to attend church for adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. Following the services Sunday night, a procession in which all the organizations of the church will march in church, will take place.

MUSIC AWARD WILL BE MADE

For a number of years when a class graduates from the senior high school it is customary for various organizations and individuals to present gold pieces or awards of some kind to students who have excelled in history, Latin, English and other subjects, but when the class graduates this year there will be a new award made.

Mrs. Robert Fleming has offered an award of $5 to the student who has done the most outstanding work in instrumental music.

DENTISTS AID NEEDED CHILDREN OF SCHOOLS

New Castle students, volunteering their services in behalf of needy school children here, conducted 197 examinations during the past month it was reported at school headquarters today. Two school dental hygienists worked with them.

The New Castle Dental Society recommended that arrangements with the school district to handle its needy cases this term.

Contracts Awarded For Highway Work

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Contracts had been awarded today on 830 miles of highway to be built with funds obtained under the National Recovery Act.

The contracts were awarded to: M. Bennett & Sons, Indiana, $97,296.82, for 2.19 miles of concrete on Route 80, Conemaugh Township, Indiana county, for 6.10 miles of grading and drainage and one concrete bridge on Route 555 in Benetette Township, Elk county.

We hope the next war will be fought in the air, because then very likely it will be postponed on account of unfavorable weather.—The San Diego Union

CRAWLS HALF MILE AFTER AN ACCIDENT

BROWNSVILLE, No. 17.—Crippled when his truck plunged 150 feet down an embankment at Vestaburg, Mike Santo, 26, of Millboro, crawled a half-mile on his hands and knees to a service station near there to keep from freezing to death today.

Santo was crowded off the road and the heavy machine broke through a cable guard. He suffered a back injury. The truck was demolished with loss estimated at $2,000.

Grid Season For Ellwood High To End On Saturday

Blue And White To Invade Rochester For Final Game Of Year

WILL POSTPONE GAME IF WEATHER IS BAD

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—Final grid game of the season will be played by Ellwood City High on Saturday afternoon when they will invade Rochester for their annual battle with the Taylor men.

The locals have worked hard this week in preparation for this contest. Besides having a great desire to close the season with a victory, they have a score or so to settle with the Taylor men. They will remember how Rochester passed their way to a one touchdown victory at Lincoln field last year. Nothing would please the Tubers better than by repaying the compliment in Rochester's own back yard.

Every effort and trick in their repertoire will be used by the Benedictmen to stop the Rochester team tomorrow afternoon. Coach "Ganz" Benedict and his assistant Mike Ferrare have been perfecting their defense against an aerial attack. Passing has been Rochester's chief weapon all season. The two ends and four backfield men are excellent pass receivers. Zaleski and Gamble will bear close watching. These two lads alternate in passing and receiving. This arrangement makes it difficult for opposing teams to determine what is going to be done next. Rochester's running attack has proved futile all season.

Local supporters believe that Ellwood has evolved a defense against an air attack that will stop Rochester. This has been shown in the past five games. It is considered as the best defense against passes that has ever been presented by an Ellwood High team. Coupled with this, the Benedictmen are no means perpetrators of the aerial attack themselves. In fact it has also been their main weapon this year. The Ellwoodians have also been given some new plays this week which they hope to spring on Rochester. All in all, indications point to a wide open game Saturday.

Miss Mary E. White Has Class Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—Miss Mary Emma White was a pleasing hostess to members of the Harriett Gordon Sunday school class of the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church at her home last evening.

Twelve members and one special guest, Mrs. Wilbur Lersch, of Ellwood City, former teacher of the class, were present.

Plans were made to hold a breakfast on Thanksgiving morning in the church, which is an annual custom of the class.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Wilbur Lersch, at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Badger invited the class to hold the December meeting at her home, when the annual exchange of gifts will be held in conjunction with the class meeting.

Happy Hour Class Met Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—Mrs. W. R. Johnson delightedly entertained the members of the Happy Hour Class of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church last night at her home on Hazel avenue with 23 present.

Mrs. Sharp Johns was in charge of the devotion. Mrs. Roy Meehan, president of the class, presided over the business meeting. An interesting social time followed as a result of which Mrs. Carl Johns, Mrs. Sharp Johns and Mrs. Clyde Cunningham received the high score awards.

Later in the evening a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess with the assistance of Mesdames E. C. Wilson, John Rodgers and Earl McElwain.

The class will meet again on Dec. 7 at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Wilson on the New Castle road.

Council Of Jewish Women Gather Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Max Reinhardt entertained the Council of Jewish Women last night at her home on Fourth street with a good attendance featuring. Those present observed the fifth birthday anniversary of the chapter at this time. The hostesses were the present and past presidents of the organization, Mrs. Ed Keller and Mrs. Ben Balter.

Following a short business meeting cards at five tables were enjoyed. The prizes at the close went to Mrs. Leonard Miller and Mrs. B. Shantz. Refreshments were served at a later hour by the hostesses.

A joint meeting will be held with the Hadassah club on the first Monday of December.

Receives Word Of Death Of Relative

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—Geo. E. Rapp, of Fountain avenue has received word this morning of the death of his cousin, Charles A. Paisley, at Wheeling, W. Va.

The deceased is well known in these parts having been born and raised in New Castle. He was president of the Wheeling Coal and Iron company. Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the late home. Interment will be made in the Wheeling cemetery.

TO ATTEND SCOUT COUNCIL MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—Burgess Judd Turner, Lowell Monroe, and J. J. McLaughlin, members of the executive board of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council will go to New Castle this evening where they will attend the meeting of the Board in the rooms of the Council.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lewis in Ellport was the scene of a merry gathering when Miss Mildred Lewis entertained a number of her young friends at her brother's home Monday evening. Round and square dancing were enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Herbert Wiley assisted the hostess in serving a fine luncheon to the following guests: Misses Emma Karsh, Lavee Hooker, Julia Yielka, Ellen Butler, Janice Graham, Julia Hooker and Mildred Lewis, Messrs. John Karsh, Dick Tillia, Thomas Knight, Walter Duncan, Lloyd Lewis, Glenn Dolter, Walter Wimer, Fred Eichenberger, Willis Matthews, Lewis and Harold Hooker, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wiley and daughter Virginia, Mrs. Elizabeth Nye and daughters Doris, Jean and Lois and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lewis.

W. M. S. MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Charles Bowers of North Sewickley was hostess to 11 members and five special guests at the November meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church, yesterday afternoon.

First Pay Day For Workmen To Come Next Week

All Workers On Local Projects Throughout Nation Will Be Paid Next Saturday

ROOSEVELT HAS GIVEN ORDERS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The first federal pay-day for a million men expected to be put to work next week on local projects under the civil works administration will be a week from tomorrow, November 18, President Roosevelt decided today.

The president sent a circular letter to all government departments and independent establishments like the veterans' bureau, federal reserve board, government printing office, etc., advising them to set the pay-off machinery in motion during next week.

Contest Will Of Colorado Woman

Late Widow Of Former Colorado State Senator, Left Money To Build Home

(International News Service)
DENVER, Nov. 17.—The late Mrs. Julia E. Hallett, 84, widow of a Colorado state senator and mining man from Aspen, kept 11 shiny new automobiles in her garage here, all in good condition. One was for the exclusive use of her pet dogs. An army of servants and $100,000 worth of costly jewelry surrounded her.

These were some of the characteristics of the wealthy widow described by Mrs. Virginia Mae Gilham, a niece, in district court here today. Mrs. Gilham is one of the relatives opposing the suit of the state of New York to obtain the $700,000 estate for construction of a home for aged women.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO RECEIVE PAY

Thirty Per Cent Of Wages Will Be Paid In "Scrip"

Council met in city hall today and approved the semi-monthly payroll of city employees.

Thirty per cent of the wages will be paid in paper, redeemable within 60 days.

Persons whose pay does not bring them more than $25 semi-monthly will be paid in full.

Approximately $10,000 will be paid Saturday to the city employees of which 30 per cent will be in "scrip."

Society Elects Officers At Meet

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 17.—An all day meeting was held by the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church yesterday in the ladies' parlors with a good attendance present.

After holding an interesting discussion on their mission study book, a three dinner was served at noon to 30 members. Following this a business meeting was held, which featured an election of officers with the following results: president Mrs. E. S. Dille; vice president, Mrs. Belle Burns; secretary, Mrs. Harry Steinberger; and treasurer, Mrs. George Meyer.

The next meeting of the society will be held on the third Thursday of December.

SWICK READY TO AIR COMPLAINTS ON POST OFFICE

Congressman, Treasury Chief To Meet Tomorrow; Affidavits On Hand

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Correspondent of The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—Congressman J. Howard Swick and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Roberts will confer here Saturday over the difficulties of New Castle's new post office.

Congressman Swick has already filed with the Treasury department chief affidavits from workmen on the post office testifying that inferior material has been used in its construction and affidavits from quarry workmen testifying that sandstone is available there.

Mr. Swick is pressing forward charges made in two hearings at New Castle that allegedly inferior material has gone into the new building here and that sandstone can be had at the Clearfield quarry to finish the building in spite of the general contractor's notification to the contrary.

Although limestone was authorized as a substitute material for the rest of the building, the government pending an investigation, has ordered stone work stopped.

NRA EMPLOYEES TO HAVE CODE

Two Color Work In Boiler Room

Fireman E. C. McCracken Beautifies Heating Plant At Court House

E. C. McCracken, fireman at the court house, has just completed beautifying the boiler room by the addition of a coat of paint. The sides of the boilers, walls and pipes have been painted white and the fronts of the boilers black.

Two huge boilers occupy the boiler room, although the county buildings can be heated with one. The reserve boiler is kept for emergencies. Kindling and coal are kept in it, so that all that is necessary is to apply a match, when anything goes wrong with the boiler in use.

It takes about 400 tons of coal to fire the county buildings during the winter. There is a huge coal house capable of holding four car loads of coal and another room almost as large for the ashes.

Early Trials For First Violators Of NRA Provisions

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Early trials were set today for the first violators to be indicted under the provisions of the NRA.

The defendants, David Lind and Moe Levine, of the Hercules Gasoline Filling Stations, Inc., pleaded not guilty through counsel in federal court, Brooklyn, and Judge Galston set the date of trial for November 24. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

The indictment, containing nine counts, was handed up to Judge Clarence G. Galston in U. S. district court. In it, the filling station chain and two officials were charged with compelling employees to work 11 hours a day, six days a week, with an hour off for lunch whereas the petroleum code provides a 48-hour week. The company was also charged with failing to post price of gasoline as provided by the code.

Chicago Millionaire Being Sued For Breach Of Promise By Mrs. Rhoda Doubleday

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Harold F. McCormick, millionaire harvester company executive, today had on file in circuit court a formal answer to the $1,500,000 breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Rhoda T. Doubleday, prominent New York divorcee.

The brief answer contained only 100 words, reading in part: "The defendant denies the wrong and injury done him and says he did not promise in manner and form as the plaintiff has above thereof complained against him."

Mrs. Doubleday's attorney, William Gemmill, announced that he will move shortly that the case be brought to trial.

'Janish' Inquiry Closed, Chief Says

Chief of Police John Haven today said the investigation into the cause of the death of George Janos also known as Janish has ended.

He said the investigation did not show that Janish had been struck and it is believed that he fell and sustained a fractured skull from which he died in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Janish was arrested on complaint of Seventh ward people, incarcerated in the police station and when taken ill was removed to the hospital.

Woman Aged 102 Is Still Active

(International News Service)
YORK, Pa., Nov. 17.—Attributing her longevity to "hard work" Mrs. Margaret Ann Angell quietly observed her 102nd birthday at her home here today.

Widowed at the age of 30, Mrs. Angell is still active and reads without glasses despite her long years.

"I'm pretty good as long as I last," she philosophized and added, with a smile, "but I don't believe I'll last long."

YOUTH INJURED THURSDAY NIGHT

MAKING A RECORD FOR OPERATIONS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Howard C. Gordon, 38 band leader and automobile salesman, has undergone a series of 84 operations during the last six years. Twenty eight of the operations, performed for the removal of an abscess on the knee, were majors.

Steve Radoscoz, Taylor township, was sent to the county jail for five days today by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing for stealing coal from freight cars of B. & O. railroad. He admitted the theft.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

EGG MARKET RULING

Announcement has been made by the directors of the Butler Cooperative Egg Auction association that no new members will be admitted after November 30, 1933, until further notice.

Lawrence county poultrymen who are interested in marketing eggs through that organization should make application for membership before that date.

PROTECT EVERGREENS FROM WINTER DAMAGE

Evergreens sometimes become heavily weighted with snow and ice during severe sleet and snow storms. Protection can be afforded either by building a small fence over the plant and covering the top with heavy wire netting or by tying the extended branches with binder twine.

Although the first method of protection is more expensive, it will tend to protect the smaller evergreens to better advantage. Upright posts of 2 by 2 inch material set to extend one foot higher than the plant should be set at intervals of six feet apart across the front and rear of the area to be protected. A strip of 1-inch board 2 inches wide and 6 feet long can be nailed to upright posts.

On top of these strips should be attached heavy mesh wire fencing similar to that used in poultry yards. This method of protection invariably breaks the fall of snow. All evergreens should be thoroughly and carefully protected during the first year until they have had an opportunity to become firmly established. Protecting evergreens by wrapping with burlap is an antiquated method which often kills the plants because the circulation of air is prevented. A better method consist of attaching burlap to upright posts placed 6 to 8 feet apart. This will tend to break the force of wind, snow and sleet.

EXPERIMENT STATION ISSUES THREE BULLETINS

Three new bulletins have just been issued by the agricultural experiment station of the Pennsylvania State college.

All Lawrence county residents on the mailing list of the station will receive abstracts of these publications. They will return the card provided for the bulletins wanted. Others may write to the station at State College, Pa., for the bulletins desired.

The new issue includes No. 295, Varieties of Alfalfa in Pennsylvania; No. 296, Electrically Heated Dairy Utensil Sterilizers; No. 297, County Government Costs in Pennsylvania.

TEACH PULLETS TO LAY EGGS IN NEST

Many Lawrence county poultrymen have partially overcome the problem of the pullets laying on the floor of their winter quarters by providing nests in the brooder houses on the range.

Even before they start to lay the pullets will investigate these new nests and will become accustomed to them. If the pullets have been laying eggs on the brooder house floor, they can be expected to do the same in the laying house. This practice also invites pickouts.

WEED OUT POOR COWS IN REDUCING SURPLUS

Present difficult situations in dairying seem to be the effect of surpluses of both dairy cattle and dairy products.

This being the case, it would seem only good strategy on the part of dairy farmers everywhere to unite in a cow reduction program. In a great majority of the herds in Lawrence county the removal of one or more of the lowest producers would increase the net returns from the herd.

Dairymen should check carefully on the amount of milk produced by each cow, in order to determine which cows should be weeded out. Where all cows in the herd are given about the same feed and care and yet some cows in approximately the same period of lactation as others produce much less milk, these lower producers should at once be put on probation. A short time study will reveal the facts.

Unless some good reason is discovered why the production of these cows is low in comparison with their stable mates, it will be a good stroke of business to send them to the butcher just as soon as it can be arranged. Other cows to watch are those having short lactation periods and long, dry periods, and also those having disease. There is no need, however, to weed out good cows, for if only one-half of the low-producing cows were removed, even though the dividing line were set at an annual production of 200 pounds of butterfat, the volume of milk produced in this country would be reduced to a point where surplus would disappear.

SPOTTING AND REMOVING LOW-PRODUCERS

Spotting and removing low-producers will not only help to put each herd on a better paying basis but will be of constructive assistance to the government in its far-flung effort to stabilize the dairy industry.

STATE FARM SHOW LISTS 449 AWARDS FOR FRUIT

With 449 awards offered on 43 varieties of apples, the premium list for the 1934 Pennsylvania farm show will again call forth a liberal representation of the finest fruit in the state. But aside from the monetary returns, many exhibitors derive an equal or greater satisfaction in vying with their fellow fruit growers for the coveted blue sticker.

The types of exhibits are varied, including plates, diamonds (16 apples), trays, bushel baskets, boxes and barrels.

Perhaps the most interest in past years has been drawn to the county horticultural association exhibits which consist of 22 bushels from each of the competing counties.

County associations are also eligible for the Gabriel Hiester award, based on the number of members exhibiting and their score on winnings in the several classes.

Most coveted of the individual prizes is the State Horticultural association cup which is presented to the exhibitor of the best bushel of apples in the show.

Commercial barrels and bushels represent an unselected sample of the grower's pack, put up to meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade. These classes were first offered in the 1930 show and have attracted steadily increasing interest.

A copy of the complete premium list for fruit may be had from the Agricultural Extension office or from Director John H. Light, Pennsylvania Farm Show, Harrisburg, Pa. There is no entry fee, and the fruit remains the property of the exhibitor after the show.

With thousands of bushels of apples moving through Pennsylvania packing houses, this should be a good time to select the prospective winners and set them aside for safe keeping until time for the show in January.

One of the most successful exhibitors offers the following formula for a winning plate: "Get a good specimen, and then find four more just like it." This is a short recipe, but a good one. Uniformity and perfection characterize the exhibits marked with the blue sticker. The former qualification is more generally overlooked by exhibitors than is the latter. In size, color and shape the apples should be as nearly identical as it is possible to get them. These qualifications also hold for the other classes.

It goes without saying that fruit showing diseases, insect or mechanical injury should not be considered for exhibition in the face of the keen competition which will be met at Harrisburg.

Experienced exhibitors have found that early selection and special care in handling and storage are distinctly worth-while features of the preparation.

MARGLOBE TOMATO LEADS IN VARIETY COMPARISON

Each year in Allegheny county the vegetable growers and the agricultural extension association cooperate in comparing the leading varieties of tomatoes best adapted to Pennsylvania conditions.

This year William Abels of Willock compared seven of these varieties. All the plants received the same treatment. A special selection of Marglobe seed produced the greatest yield of solid, smooth fruits of uniform size. Pritchard was a close second. This is a new variety which is slightly earlier than the other two. The past several seasons not only in Allegheny county but in Pennsylvania as a whole.

Computed on an acre basis the Allegheny county yields were as follows: Marglobe, 365 bushels; Pritchard, 371 bushels; and the other five varieties, 280, 280, 287, 282 and 227 bushels each. All of the varieties were considered good. No variety produced a low yield, and yet there was a great difference in favor of Marglobe and Pritchard.

Christmas Funds Over 5 Million

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—Forty-five Philadelphia banks, including five operating on a restricted basis, will disburse approximately $5,824,000 on December 1 to 125,346 Christmas club depositors.

The sum represents an average of $46.40 per person, a figure slightly higher than the Christmas club average for the country which is $43.75.

Eight million persons are members of Christmas clubs maintained by 6,000 banking institutions in the United States. They will receive a total of $350,000,000 of which approximately 50 per cent will be spent for Christmas purchases.

Uses Headlights To Decoy Rabbits

(International News Service) BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 17.—An unidentified motorist parked his automobile on a Southside street the other night and turned on the lights.

A rabbit hopped towards the headlights. "Bang!" went a gun. Another luckless bunny headed for the light.

The gun barked a second time. The motorist, a wise hunter, picked up the dead rabbits and disappeared.

Homing Pigeons Set New Record

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Nov. 17.—A world's record homing-flight was believed to have been established recently by three young pigeons from the loft of Thomas Wilson, of Plains.

The birds, a set of nine, were released at Bristol, Tenn., and flew to their home loft, completing the 500-mile flight in 25½ hours.

Civil War Veteran Matures Policy

(International News Service) BELLEFONTE, Pa., Nov. 17.—Centennial county's oldest Civil War veteran, Thomas B. Hamilton, Bellefonte, who is nearing his 96th birthday, has enjoyed the unusual distinction of witnessing the maturity of his life insurance policy which he purchased in 1873.

New Castle And Toledo Scott Play Saturday

"Red Hurricane" Is Set For Strong Ohio Team

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Puts Finishing Touches To Week Of Intensive Drills

Kickoff Scheduled For 2:30 P. M.; Biggest Crowd Of Year Is Looked For Football supremacy of Western Pennsylvania and Northern Ohio will be at stake Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at New Castle's magnificent Taggart Stadium when New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football machine will oppose one of the most powerful high school teams in the country—Toledo Scott High. The Ohioans are coming to Pa. New Castle's domain with a national reputation. There are many who believe that New Castle's 24-game winning streak is about to be snapped. There are others who are in doubt. The test will come on the greensward of the local football arena shortly after the whistle sends the two finely trained schoolboy elevens tearing into battle.

Expect Big Crowd
In event of good weather the biggest crowd to see a football game in New Castle in the past ten years will no doubt turn out to watch the Toledoans. The name of Scott High of Toledo is known and feared by all high school football teams this side of the Rockies. New Castle is just coming into its own in national football. This is the first big intersectional team that New Castle has ever tried to play. It won't be the last, if Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has his say. New Castle has picked on Toledo Scott as the eye-opener for the football fans of this community.

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" polished off the rough edges this afternoon and then went to their homes to rest until game time Saturday.

Toledo Line Is Big
Toledo Line is sending a group of linemen here that would put to shame a lot of Class B schools all of them the size of Oregon backwoods-men. Just big tough hard babies who will make life miserable for New Castle staunch line flanked by the two Shellogg brothers, Fred and Alec only 190 pounds of solid muscle. This Toledo line weighs about 1,500 pounds combined. A lot of beef and brawn to shove around in an afternoon's workout for anybody's sons.

Unless we miss our guess there is going to be some lively fireworks out on the green carpet of Taggart Stadium tomorrow afternoon. There hasn't been any lines this year too tough for the Bridenbaughsmen to crack. There hasn't been a team this year earn a touchdown through the line of scrimmage.

New Castle Great Line
Toledo Scott wants to be the first team to claim this honor. Before their hopes will come true, they will have to contend with such fine linemen as Walter Raskowski, Louie Sorto, Frank Humphrey, Hitchens, Fleming, Kneram, Johns, the Shellogg brothers and Joe Howley. Not a particularly pleasant group of young huskies to face either. New Castle's line will probably be outweighed about 10 to 15 pounds per man but they will not be outwitted, nor outsmarted if you know what I mean.

When the green and red shirts mix up on Taggart Field there is going to be a football circus for the customers. Better plan to be at the party. The best teams in the Toledo district have fallen before the onslaught of this "Jauggernaut" from Scott High. There is bound to be action galore as the teams strive

Bridenbaugh Gloomy
Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has been about as talkative this week as a man with a new set of false teeth. And when "Bridy" is silent, as we have said before it means that he is worried, and when the genial Phil won't be the last, if Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has his say. New Castle has picked on Toledo Scott as the eye-opener for the football fans of this community.

Unbeaten Teams Facing Test On Grid Saturday

Southern California To Meet Oregon; Michigan Will Tackle Minnesota

PITT WILL PLAY NEBRASKA TEAM

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—That exclusive but rapidly dwindling group of undefeated teams is to be gravely menaced tomorrow when college football goes into the quarter-final or semi-serious round of the season's development.

It is so gravely menaced that nine of the big unbeaten ten could be eliminated at one and the same time. As it is, this might happen to as many as five; it probably will happen to at least three and, in one case, a denouement just can't miss. This will come when Michigan and Minnesota meet at Ann Arbor in the game that probably will pay the tab on the Big Ten championship. I may be shot for a heretic but I think Minnesota, because of its superior condition, will either tie or beat Michigan.

Oregon Gets Test.

Before the day is over, in fact, we'll know a great deal more not only about that race but those in the east, the south and the southwest, and in the case of the west coast, we'll know all.

Here, the undefeated team of Oregon will be asked to take its last, desperate fling at the conference title, with Southern California ready to make its peace with a rapidly parting Los Angeles crowd. The Mike DeCarbo definitely goes with this one. So does the Rose Bowl bid.

Speaking of that, sectional bell-wethers with distinct ambitions are to go into action on other fronts, the list including Duke, Georgia, and Louisiana State from the south; perhaps Purdue and Michigan from the Big Six. The east, having signified no wish to be a party to this transaction, naturally doesn't figure here.

Tough Games.

Anyhow, the following is the schedule that will bring all the national contenders into the arena tomorrow: Southern California vs. Oregon at Los Angeles; Michigan vs. Minnesota at Ann Arbor; Pittsburgh vs. Nebraska at Pittsburgh; Princeton vs. Navy at Princeton; Alabama Poly vs. Georgia at Birmingham; Duke vs. North Carolina at Durham; Purdue vs. Iowa at Lafayette, Ind.; Louisiana State vs. Mississippi at Baton Rouge.

Not claiming any particular importance for whatever ideas which, by a magnificent effort, I may be able to muster on the subject, I nevertheless am calling the following shots with sang froid and abandon:

To remain undefeated—Princeton, Georgia, Duke, Purdue, Louisiana State.

To lose for the first time: Oregon to U. S. C.; Nebraska to Pittsburgh; Michigan to Minnesota.

Princeton Favored.

There has been, of course, no mention made of the fact that the undefeated Army team is to engage in a gripping encounter with Pennsylvania at the University of Pennsylvania. Leonard went to Thiel college where he proved one of the outstanding gridriders in the history of the school. During his senior year he was captain. DeCarbo and Ciccone saw action in Duquesne. Ciccone is a member of the 1933 team. DeCarbo received his sheepskin in 1932.

Three Titans In Last Game On Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 17.—When Coach Ray Ride's Case eleven comes here Saturday for the final grid game of the season with Coach John Lawther's Westminster team, three Titan players will be playing their final contest.

The three men are: George Hollander, Freeport, L. I., Mauno Siljander, Pittsburgh and James Blocker, of Sandusky, Ohio. Hollander has played three seasons as a lineman, Siljander, who has won letters in basketball and track as well as in football is completing his fourth grid season. Blocker has been a lineman for four seasons.

All three men will be used in the contest, Coach John Lawther says. It is probable that Blocker will be at center; Siljander at right half-back; and Hollander at guard. The other guard on the starting lineup will probably be Franklin. At tackle Lawther will use Scarbrough and Lo-Buono. Ends will be Leyshock and Watt. Sweeney will be at quarterback, Staples at fullback and Mintz at left half.

Polish Falcons Have Fast Floor Team This Year

Marion Kolodjeski Is In Charge Of Polish Falcons, Plan For Strong Quintet

The Polish Falcons will come out this year with one of the strongest basketball team in their history according to word today from Marion Kolodjeski, who is directing the practices of the Falcons at the Miller avenue hall.

There are a number of veterans on the squad this season including Joe Kolodjeski, Harry Koszela, J. Baudat, Z. Dudek, B. Aukstik, J. Noga, F. Noga, Joe Boron, Russ Kava, and Joe Sniezek. There will be several others join the squad a little later.

Practice sessions are being held each Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Falcon Hall. The Mid-dle and Juniors are also starting to practice basketball, and will have fine teams.

The Polish Falcons girls are planning a fast volleyball team for this winter, and will join the Fourth District league being organized. Stella Cwynar and her assistants served the Falcons boys with a fine luncheon last Tuesday following the practice session.

Union-Sandy Lake Game Called Off

Owing to adverse weather conditions and about 15 inches of snow at Sandy Lake, the scheduled Union High school game with Sandy Lake high at the lake resort this afternoon, has been cancelled until next week if weather conditions improve.

Presidents To Wrestle Y Boys

Director of intercollegiate athletics at Washington and Jefferson College has announced the wrestling calendar of the Presidents. The season will open January 13 when the W. and J. grapplers will oppose the local Y. M. C. A. mat men.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Dr. David O'Loughlin will coach Pitt's tennis team next year. He will replace Dr. William McElroy as volunteer mentor.

Allegheny college has cancelled its grid games with Bethany, Saturday and Thiel, Tuesday, owing to snow and cold weather.

Charles H. Knapp of Baltimore, has been re-elected for his sixth term as president of the International League.

Franklin high school football team has completed its season in the "red." Franklin plays on an unenclosed field.

Vince Dundee will defend the middleweight boxing title against Andy Callahan at Boston, December 8.

Grove City and Geneva play at Beaver Falls Saturday. Grove City has not been beaten. Geneva has dropped two games.

Eagleson To Head Wilmington High Basketball Team

Robert Eagleson, diminutive forward of last years championship team, has been chosen by his fellow letter-men to lead them in the season of '33-34. He was the unanimous choice for captain, his ability and generalship combined with a high degree of sportsmanship won for him this coveted position.

Eagleson is a member of the Junior class team and has won further distinction by being nominated president of the group.

Titan Harriers Have Good Season

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 17.—Winning two out of three races on the schedule for the 1933 season, the Westminster College cross country team closed a very successful season last Saturday against Muskingum.

The Titan harriers, with a number of rather inexperienced freshmen and sophomores on the squad, defeated West Virginia University and Muskingum, and lost to University of Pittsburgh. Since Westminster was the only Tri-State Conference team this year, no league championship cup was offered.

Coach R. X. Graham says that the members of the team deserve all the credit for the excellent showing in that they trained hard and improved in ability by 50 per cent over the showing made at the start of the season.

The men who ran in most of the races were: Perry Klumpp, New Wilmington, captain; Jack Gerstner, Philadelphia; Harrison Kennedy, Philadelphia; Harvey Snyder, Bellevue; Wilbur Needham, Bradock; Clarence Manor, Pittsburgh; Arthur DeCimiller, Oakmont; and Spencer Davis, Philadelphia. Davis, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, ran in one meet and qualified to run in another.

The work of Paul Barger, Hickory, as student manager was especially outstanding during the season.

Washington High At Karns City

George Washington Junior High football team went to Karns City shortly after noon today for a game with the fast Karns City High football team in the final effort of the 1933 campaign.

The Washington High squad was in charge of Head Coach Dan Carroll and Assistant coach Harry Crisid. All of the Washington regulars are in good shape for the game. A victory today will end a most successful year for the Washingtonites.

Hamas-Ramage Fight Tonight

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Lee Ramage, rated one of the cleverest big boxers ever to come out of California, will meet Steve Hamas, former Penn State grid star, in a ten round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

It is their fourth meeting, their feud having started in California where Ramage shocked the eastern talent by winning the decision over Hamas. They fought again and Steve turned the tables. A third and bitter battle ended in a draw.

Grove City To Battle Geneva Team Saturday

Ancient Rivals Will Tangle In Tri-State Conference Title Game

GROVE CITY, Nov. 17.—Geneva 334, Grove City 333. That's the total score of a 40-year football rivalry which will be resumed Saturday afternoon at Beaver Falls. The one-to-the fireworks in Reeves stadium Saturday as the well-matched teams wage their fight for the 1933 grid title in the Tri-State conference.

Geneva leads in the scoring in 43 games played since the teams first met in 1893, and will be slight favorites to capture the 1933 game. On the basis of comparative scoring this year, Geneva defeated Westminster 20-0, while Grove City won from the Titans 12-0. Geneva also defeated Waynesburg by a greater margin than the Crimson, recording a 14-7 triumph as against Grove City's 2-0 victory.

Over the long period since 1893, Grove City holds the margin of victories, with 20 victories and six ties against 17 defeats. Grove City triumphed over Geneva in 1929, when a powerful Crimson machine crushed the Covenanters under a 24-0 defeat. The following year Geneva eked out a 13-12 victory, and in 1931 the Grovers came through with a surprise 14-7 win. Last season, in the first game played in Grove City in five years, the Geneva team won easily, 20-0.

Two other district teams, Thiel and Westminster, are older Grove City opponents than Geneva, but in the past decade the rivalry between the Grovers and Covenanters has flared high. The "dope" can be discounted when the teams meet on the gridiron, and a brilliant contest is always on the cards. The Grovers, always on the cards, have their chance to win a conference grid title next Saturday, and are primed for the game.

Bessemer To Play At Lowellville, O.

Nine Bessemer High Varsity Men Will Play Final Game Saturday

Bessemer High School football team will play its final game of the 1933 season at Lowellville, Ohio, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The game will be played according to schedule, was the announcement from Coach J. K. Frederick today. The Lowellville field is being swept off.

It will mark the final scholastic game for Bessemer High for nine of the varsity players, and everyone of the boys who will be missing next year have aided Coach Frederick in winning the Class A County championship this season. Captain Sankovitch, Slavish, Pezula, Donofrio, Hulela, Wolfe and Capezuto.

Knapp Re-Named As League Head

(International News Service)
GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 17.—Charles H. Knapp of Baltimore today starts his sixth term as president of the International Baseball League. He was elected yesterday, April 18 was selected as the opening date for next season but the owners put off for a month decision on the Shaughnessy play-off system.

Slows Down

RAIL SHARES ARE IN DEMAND

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Profit-taking slowed down the advance in the stock market today and early gains running to a point were in some instances cut to the vanishing point and even converted into small losses. The undertone of the list, though, continued strong and the volume of trading slowed perceptibly on the downside.

The dollar continued firm this morning following yesterday's sharp rebound and early easiness disappeared following the announcement that the R. P. C. gold price would be held at $33.56 an ounce, unchanged. A number of issues reached new highs on the move including United States Steel, Chrysler, United Carbon and Standard of N. J.

Railroad shares were in demand with New York Central, Lackawanna, Southern Railway and Southern Pacific fractionally higher. The utilities for the first time showed signs of sponsorship as Consolidated Gas rebounded a point.

Gold mining shares, though, appeared to be under pressure from traders switching into other issues and Alaska Juneau, Dome, and McIntyre lost moderately.

Commodity markets ran into some profit-taking with wheat and other grains declining fractionally, and silver losing more than half a cent an ounce. The cotton market lost 25 cents a bale.

DETECTIVE SHOOT
AN ESCAPED STEER

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Captain of Detectives Herbert G. Rupp, of the city police department, recently demonstrated his ability to shoot straight.

A Texas steer, of the short horn variety, escaped from an abattoir and charged him after sending numerous residents scurrying to safety.

Captain Rupp calmly drew his service pistol and downed the mad-demon steer as it snorted to within 25 feet of him.

How President Roosevelt Spends Thanksgiving

President Roosevelt follows his annual Thanksgiving custom by going to Warm Springs, Ga., for a few restful days. The pictures show the round of life there. His neighbors always give him a warm welcome when he arrives. He is shown with Mrs. Roosevelt and his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Dall. An aerial view of his home is shown and the President is pictured with Mrs. Dall in his favorite spot before the fireplace. Other pictures show Mr. Roosevelt enjoying the indoor pool, in which his daughter joins him; greeting the little patients at the Warm Springs Foundation which he founded, and posing with the Georgia Fiddlers who come to serenade him. Air Edition of "Deerslayer"

Poor deer (note two E's), he probably was on the lookout for enemies on the ground and never heeded the threat from the sky that made him venison. Yes, deer-hunting by plane is the newest form of sport. Miss Violet Scott, New York society girl, is pictured with Pilot Harold Crowley on their return to Boston from a fast trip to Maine, where they bagged the 210-pounder shown on the pontoon of their plane. Set Date For Elections In Mining Field

Federal Government Will Supervise Election Of Mine Representatives Next Week

ONLY OPERATING MINES TO VOTE

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—"Captive" mine workers will elect their representatives for collective bargaining at federal supervised elections next Wednesday, it was announced here today by Jesse I. Miller, assistant to the chairman of the national labor board.

The Wednesday elections will be confined to mines in the Allegheny county area. On the following day, miners in Fayette, Westmoreland and part of Greene county will hold their polls. Twenty-eight captive mines now operating in the western Pennsylvania field will hold elections on the two days, Miller said.

Supervisors for the elections will arrive in Pittsburgh Tuesday. They will conduct the balloting under rules laid down earlier this week in Washington following a conference between Dr. W. M. Leiserson, secretary of the board, Miller and Senator Robert H. Wagner, chairman.

Following the presidential captive mine agreement to the letter, Miller said only those mines now operating will vote at this time. The agreement provides that elections shall be held "after the employees have returned to work."

Election notices have already been posted, nominations must be in the hands of national labor board officials here by Monday. The ballots will be printed and distributed the following day.

For the most part local unions of the U. M. W. A. are expected to nominate three international and three district officers.
